Student Protection Group Asks Relief of Hazards

The county's 1960-61 budget may include a $30,000 allowance for the partial elimination of hazards to pedestrian school children within the county.

Members of the county board of supervisors referred to the county public works department for consideration a request from the county student protection committee that the $30,000 be included as a "limited amount of funds" for the start of work on the hazards.

THE REQUEST came in the form of a four-page report submitted to the supervisors Tuesday by the committee, which is made up of representatives from parents' groups, the California highway patrol, the public works department and the county administrator's office.

Charles Hammond, assistant county administrator and a member of the committee, presented the report on behalf of his group. Mrs. Rose Hawkins of Lafayette is chairman of the student protection committee.

The repor noted that, at the request of the supervisors, the committee and county public works director Vic Sauer have been studying "road betterments for the protection of school children" since December, 1958.

IT NOTED that the study revealed 36 of the hazards reported concerning inadequate walking space along the road, 19 concerned unduly narrow roads, 15 concerned sight restrictions, and six dealt with the need for crosswalks.

The committee report continues, "A review of the improvement needs listed indicates that many hundreds of thousands of dollars will eventually have to be spent to remove existing hazards to student pedestrians.

"Many additional hazards will develop as new schools are constructed unless sidewalks are constructed as land in the vicinity of the schools is developed. Adoption of such provisions appears to be the only long range solution to the problem of traffic hazards to pedestrian school children."

COMMITTEE members did not recommend that county funds be used for the construction of sidewalks and walkways.

But they said the county could make some minor improvements to relieve hazards on an interim basis.

Among these they listed shoulder widening and "the provision of engineering information and advice which might stimulate local action to eliminate specific problems."

THE COMMITTEE reommended that $5000 of the $30,000, if that amount is set aside in the budget, be used for engineering services.

As examples, the committee pointed out three improvements which have recently been made by the county at nominal costs. These were:

1 — Tice Valley Boulevard, where $5200 has already been expended on shoulder work.

2—AT THE PLEASANT Hill School, where a flashing light has been installed on a cooperative basis by the county and the Mt. Diablo Unified School District.

3 — On Lisa Lane, Pleasant Hill, where property owners, the school district and the county are cooperating in an improvement project.

The report concluded, "The solution of the problem . . . will require concerted effort on the part of property owners, subdividers, home builders, school districts and the county. The problem can best be prevented by advance provision of sidewalks in subdivision developments."

A large majority of the hazards listed by the committee are located in the vicinity of schools in Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek and Lafayette.

Chamber Wins Long Signal Fight

MUCH OF the success of Saturday's community-wide clean up in Orinda can be attributed to the cooperation of the Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops within the community. Here, from left to right, Bryan Lawver, Jeffrey Gallagher and Michael Arkelian, all of Troop 245, are shown cleaning up some of the litter in the Crossroads area. State Approves Lights At Camino Pablo Corner

Reports this week indicated the Orinda Chamber of Commerce's long fight for a traffic signal at the intersection of Camino Pablo, Brookwood Road and the freeway eastbound off-ramp finally has reached a happy conclusion.

Vic Sauer, county public works director, said he received a letter from the State Division of Highways stating that recently-completed studies have resulted in a decision to install the lights in the near future.

A copy of the letter was sent to Clarence Betz, secretary of the chamber, which two months ago adopted a resolution protesting the state's earlier decision to postpone installation of the signals.

MARK KERMIT, traffic engineer in the public works department, said money for the lighting is already in the county budget this year, and the county is prepared to proceed with the project as soon as the state completes the plans.

He estimated the installation will begin within the next six months, but he added "this is just a guess."

Kermit explained the project includes plans for a full traffic signal installation at the five-way intersection, which has been a bottleneck for commuter and shopper traffic, channelization islands and lights and additional street lights.

ONCE BEFORE, the state announced definite plans for the lighting installation, but subsequently said that later traffic studies revealed the lights were not needed at the location.

Directors Will Hear Report on Membership Drive

Directors of the Orinda Association are expecting a comprehensive report on the success of the association's annual membership drive at their regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Orinda School.

The drive was to have ended Sunday, but has been extended in order to allow the neighborhood improvement groups to rally their forces and compile accurate reports for the association, according to Vic Kingston, association president.

Mrs. Robert Haslam and Bruce Howard, co-chairmen of the membership drive, said no house to house calls are being made, but the entire drive is concentrated in a mail campaign. They said the annual dues can be mailed to the association at P.O. Box 97, Orinda.

The goal of the drive is 1000 members. The association boasted 850 members in the year just ended, and Mrs. Haslam said the potential membership within the community is 3500 families.

Early returns indicated that the Glorietta area has the greatest number of new memberships, with the Sleepy Hollow and Ivy Drive areas close behind, the co-chairmen reported.

Another item on Monday's agenda is the formulation of final plans for the association's annual general meeting at 8 p.m. April 4.

Fluoridation Information Approved in Rodeo Schools

"Of course, we're sending it home," said George Schandelmier, superintendent of schools at Rodeo, this week when asked about his school district's handling of information regarding fluoridation.

Schandelmeir told The Sun the policy of the Rodeo School District regarding the distribution of fluoridation materials through school children is based on the same district attorney's ruling as was rendered to the Lafayette School District last week.

THE RULING, written by Charles Hemmings, chief civil deputy district attorney, quotes a state education code section which prohibits school districts from barring information distributed by parents' organizations if the material is not considered propaganda.

VOTERS in the East Bay Municipal Utility District will ballot June 7 on whether the district's public water supply should be fluoridated.

Schandelmier said his district's decision to allow this type of distribution of the information is also based on the fact that the state seventh grade health textbook includes a section on fluoridation, and "if the state doesn't consider it propaganda, I don't see why we should."

Trustees of the Lafayette School District have not met since W. B. Ellis, the district superintendent, received the district attorney's reply, but at least two of them—Chairman Boardman Moore and Robert Pedder—have said the district is not bound by the ruling.

LAFAYETTE trustees adopted a resolution last month prohibiting the distribution of fluoridation materials through students. After some criticism from parents and the public, Ellis asked for the district attorney's opinion.

The Lafayette action was prompted by some protests over an article which appeared in the January issue of "Growing Pains," the monthly publication of the Lafayette health council. The health council is an organization composed of parent and school district representative.

In the publication, the council reproduced a pro - fluoridation statement which appeared in a national bulletin, and then added, "The Lafayette Health Council Endorses Fluoridation."

Clean Up Drive Accomplished by Many Volunteers

With an assist from the weatherman, the community-wide clean up was accomplished Saturday, and leaders of the campaign indicated the results were gratifying.

Mrs. Paul Pollazek, Orinda's beautification chairman who is heading the month-long Clean Up Orinda drive, said, "The streets of Orinda look like a floor that has been freshly swept. Orindans should use the streets' appearance as an example for the future."

MORE THAN 150 Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Scout leaders and interested adults participated in the four-hour clean up on both sides of the Crossroads.

The anti-litter drive is being held in conjunction with the County Public Works Department, and is sponsored by the beautification committee, the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, the Orinda Association and The Sun.

In addition, members of the Orinda Lions Club were on hand to man a refreshment truck which distributed soft drinks and donuts to the laboring Scouts.

THE BOY SCOUTS were responsible for the cleaning of litter off the streets and gutters for pick up by the county's anti-litter truck, which spent the day in the Orinda area.

Boy Scout troops which participated, and their leaders, are: Troop 245, Al Johnson and John Bell; 237, Hamilton Stevenson and Vic Kingston; 244, Harold Libbey, Jack Bailey, Vic Traverson, Frank Eggerston and Jack Rands; 207, Deloss Winkler and Dick Gilmore; 247, Dick Holm and Dick Hale; and 200, Tom Mueller.

Girl Scout Troops 262, led by Mrs. John Bascom, and 379, led by Mrs. Joe DeCosta and Mrs. Fred Rust, cleaned out the redwood planter boxes throughout the business districts, while Girl Scouts of Troop 204, led by Mrs. Edward Patterson, distributed litter bags supplied by the county.

IN ADDITION, the Learning Blue Birds, under the leadership of Mrs. R. I. Copenhagen, spent last Friday afternoon distributing the "Help Make Orinda Clean" fliers printed by the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce to all merchants in the Village and Crossroads areas.

But Mrs. Pollaczek reported the job is not yet complete.

She said the Balancers of Orinda, a car club sponsored by the Orinda Rotary Club, will paint the planter boxes tomorrow in order to give the community a new look for spring.

Supervisors to Rule On Fees Retention

The system of mileage and civil fees of Sheriff Walter F. Young will come before the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday.

Mel F. Nielsen, chairman of the board, said he is astonished to learn Sheriff Walter F. Young more than doubled his $12,600 county salary last year by pocketing fees and mileage allowed him for serving papers in civil suits.

A survey and report of the fee system will be presented to the supervisors, prepared by J. P. McBrien, county administrator. Nielsen said the supervisors, after reviewing the report, must answer two vital questions.

IS IT GOOD public practice to allow the sheriff to keep fees paid for work done by four county-paid deputies and clerks serving civil papers and, is it good public practice to allow Young to operate three private autos and pocket mileage at 35 cents a mile one-way for serving these papers when he has available a fleet of county-owned cars?

Under existing county law, the retention of the fees and mileage is legally proper. However, District Attorney John Nejedly has ruled that supervisors can prohibit Young from retaining fees, which are paid by attorneys and litigants for serving papers.

The fees last year were $13,453.15, compared to Young's $12,600 salary. This figure gave him a total of $26,053.35, about $1000 more than the salary of the Sheriff of Los Angeles County.

NIELSEN said it is difficult to justify Young's $26,000 income as Contra Costa County Sheriff, when Los Angeles County, with a civil division almost as large as the entire local sheriff's staff, allows its sheriff $25,000.

Should the supervisors rule that Young may not retain fees, the money would revert to the county.

The county pays the salaries of two full-time deputies and two clerks who work in the civil division. Young provides the automobiles they use. The mileage amounts to 35 cents a mile, one-way.

First Hour Is Very Important, When You Try It

Mrs. Melvin Sherman of 251 Los Banos Avenue, Walnut Creek, sold her three piece sectional, 29 square yards of carpet and several tables with a Sun want ad, ". . . the first hour the paper was out," she said.

Her want ad appeared in The Sun Shopping News, which goes free to 40,000 homes in the central county area, and also automatically into the Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun, Lafayette Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun, all regular subscription papers.

The "5-in-1" treatment gets results fast, and a 14-word ad costs only $1.60.

Using Sun want ads, Mrs. J. Schnur of 3140 McNutt Avenue, Walnut Creek, sold her refrigerator, washer, crib and baby carriage.

Hilltop Garden Club Hears Professor

Hospital Group to Hold Barbershop Quartet Program

Gerald Breuner of 29 Normandy Lane, Orinda, has always loved to sing.

Down on the farm at Stanford, he had a chance to pursue this hobby, appearing in singin revues.

After his college days, however, business and other commitments, kept him from engaging in his hobby except at parties when the gang would gather around the piano for harmonizing.

IT WAS AT ONE of these songfests four years ago, that Gerry, as his friends call him, heard about the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.

He joined the Berkeley Chapter and since then has regularly joined the group in song-fests in the back room of an Oakland restaurant every Monday night.

A member of The Californians Chorus, Gerry will sing baritone in the Barbershop Revue sponsored by the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. and the Children's Hospital of the East Bay on Friday and Saturday nights, April 1 and 2 in the Berkeley Community Theater.

Proceeds from the show, after basic expenses are paid, will benefit the hospital, which underwrites an extensive part-pay program for needy children.

ALL SEATS WILL be reserved at prices ranging from $1.50 to $2.50. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Heber H. Smith, Jr., Heather Branch member, at 48 Via Floreado, Orinda, with checks made payable to Children's Hospital of the East Bay, or through Jim Haney at 1799 Euclid Avenue, Berkeley, with a check made payable to the Berkeley Chapter, S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.

Persons ordering tickets by mail should state a preference for Friday or Saturday night and for upper balcony ($1.50), sides and rear third center on main floor ($2.00), or lower balcony and first two-thirds center of main floor, ($2.50). A stamped self-addressed envelope should be enclosed.

A box office will be open at the office of the branches, 721 52nd Street, Oakland, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, March 14 through April 1.

Ingram an Owner Of Station KTVU

Ward D. Ingram, 3 Oak Arbor Drive, is one of the six stockholders of Oakland television station KTVU, Channel 2, which was purchased recently by the National Broadcasting Company.

Sale of the station by San Francisco - Oakland Television, Inc., Ingram's group, is subject to the approval of the U.S. Justice Department and the Federal Communications Commission.

The sale caused a protest from San Francisco Station KRON, Channel 4, which has been the Bay Area's NBC affiliate since 1949. Officials of the San Francisco station charged the sale, if approved, would imperil its audience.

Orinda Schools Groups to Hold 'Town Meeting'

A town meeting type program will be held in the Pine Grove School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday sponsored by the Cooperating Council of Parents Clubs for Orinda schools and the Orinda Health Council.

Speakers will include the Reverend Chauncey E. Blossom, minister of Orinda Community church; James Lewis, Miramonte High School principal; William Gaskell, Inland Valley School principal; Reverend Brother S. Albert, F. S. C., dean of St. Marys College in Moraga, and Dr. Royce Ronning, educational psychologist from the University of California. Dr. John M. Boulware of Orinda will act as moderator.

A program similar to this one was held in Jaunary 1959 and was very sucessful. Anyone interested in attending is cordially invited.

Chemists Win Flower Prizes

Four of Orinda's camellia fanciers took top prizes in the Shell Development Recreational Association's ninth annual camelia show, held at Shell's Emeryville research center recently.

Rate Hit By Multi-Dwelling Owners

Sewer Use Charge Averages Three Times Former Cost

By CONNIE PIKE

The bulk of complaints against the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District's new sewer service use charge is coming from multiple-dwelling owners.

The charge, which went into effect in January, has become a focal point because of the issuance of the first quarterly statements. The charge, say users, is considerably more than "nominal."

Duplex homes appear to be the hardest hit, since they have been classified as commercial buildings. William Dalton, administrative engineer of the sanitary district, has said the use charge will stand for multiple-dwellings, but, on request, the district will review particular cases.

DALTON SAID also the board of directors put over a decision on churches, schools and other non-profit buildings, pending a report to be made at the April 7 meeting.

With respect to the threatening lawsuit, to be filed by Walnut Creek attorney John R. Forde Jr., Dalton said the district's attorney, John Bohn, considered the various facets of the ordinance before it was adopted, and deemed it fair and equitable.

The district will be compelled, he added, to listen and consider the charges. A small business office probably requires less sewer facilities than a residence, he admitted, but he feels the district has done a good job of arriving at fair charges without hurting anybody too much.

He said metering is expensive, and done only in major cases. Metering for every building would be impracticable.

JOHN FORDE told The Sun the district nas not yet made a formal reply to his letter, which informed the district of his intention to file a suit. Forde's clients include commercial as well as multiple-dwelling owners, he said.

Forde said a rate charge based on service is authorized if it is reasonable, equitable, fair and non-discriminatory. But he pointed out that while there is some variation in the amounts charged, a rate schedule would have to be established before the charge would be truly equitable.

John Scaglione, representing the Pleasant Hill Chamber of Commerce, has said the chamber will continue to look into the use charge to see whether it is justified.

HE FEELS Pleasant Hill will ultimately bear the brunt of the charge, because of a more concentrated population, should the charge be applied to single-family dwellings.

With respect to charging single-family residences, Dalton said they were included in the study made by the district staff, but no decision has been made on them to date.

He said the amount charged on commercial buildings averages three times the amount of the old connection charges, but varies in cases of heavy usage. In the latter, such as car washes, restaurants, the ratio is about five times the amount of the former connection charge.

Youth Dies In Crash On Freeway

Private funeral services were held in Oakland Monday for Anthony Johnson, 20, of 24 Charles Hill Road, who was killed in a high speed, head-on automobile crash on the Nimitz Freeway last Friday night.

Highway patrolmen in Alameda County said the accident occurred near the 19th Avenue interchange of the freeway when Johnson was southbound in his expensive sports car at an estimated speed of 90 miles per hour.

A TOTAL OF eight cars, including Johnson's, was involved in the chain-reaction collision, according to the officers. Six persons were injured, only one of them seriously.

The highway patrol said Johnson's speeding car grazed the side of another southbound auto, throwing Johnson's out of control. The vehicle driven by the Orinda youth then jumped the dividing strip and crashed head-on into an oncoming auto.

According to officers, Johnson was thrown from his car by the impact, but the car kept going and struck a second oncoming car. The sports car flipped over and came to rest upside down on the freeway shoulder.

JOHNSON, THE SON of Mrs. Ben Johnson of Orinda and the late Mr. Johnson, was a repairman for Montgomery Ward. He was a native of California.

The youth is also survived by a brother, Thomas C. Johnson.

Tom Brown Will Sing Barbershop

Eighty-three year old Thomas L. Brown of Orinda has a very special recipe for longevity — he sings.

There is something special about the way he sings, too. He barbershops. He will one of the singers to appear in "Handlebar Harmony," the barbershop revue sponsored by the Children's Hospital of the East Bay and the Berkeley Chapter of the S.P.E.-B.S.Q.S.A. which will be given on April 1 and 2 at the Berkeley Community Theater.

Brown has been a member of the group for 10 years, when he and his wife moved to Orinda from Minneapolis, Minn. Brown was anxious to make friends, he'd always liked to sing, so when he heard about the Barbershopper, he joined the group.

Last year the Berkeley Chapter named him "The Barbershopper of the Year" and presented him with a trophy of which he is most proud.

When he isn't barbershopping, or puttering in his garden (roses are his favorite), he carries on a milling business. He is only in semi-retirement, he says. However, he sounds like a very unretired person.

Local Man Will Enter Road Race

Ray Ingalls, 1 Madiera Lane, Orinda, will race his American-built Omega at the Stockton Lions Club eighth annual road races this weekend.

His car is one of at least 10 of the new Formula Junior class of international racing machines that will enter the race. The new class was recognized by FIA, international racing body, for the first time last year.

The junior is not a true sports car. It has only one seat, no fenders, top or headlights, and is a scaled down, all-out race car.

Examiner Features Oak Arbor Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Skinner at 6 Oak Arbor Road, Orinda, was featured in a recent issue of the San Francisco Examiner's home and garden section.

Designed by Henry Hill, A.I.A., the house has been oriented to a problem hillside lot, and extensive use of glass has been made.

Unusual features are brick, floored hallways built to withstand hard wear, and the openness of the floor plan.

'Bonita' Receives Annual Inspection

Sea Explorer Ship Bonita of Orinda was inspected Monday evening by Vice Commodore R. A. Tyner of the Eastern Division of Mount Diablo Council of the Boy Scouts of America. R. M. Christian, Scout official of Mount Diablo Council, and former Skipper Walter Edwards accompanied him as staff members.

The traditional ceremony of annual inspection and rating of the ship was held at the Orinda Community Church, which also sponsors the shop. Skipper of the ship is G. B. S. Ricketts, and mate is John Spiegl, both of Orinda. Many parents and friends observed the ceremony.

The mate and crew went aboard the "land ship" to complete the flag raising portion of the program. After the skipper was piped aboard with two side boys, the vice commodore and his staff were piped aboard with four side boys.

According to A. C. Flenner, committee chairman of the ship, there are nine active boys in the ship at present time. Brian Traynor is yeoman, Donald Flenner is boatswain, and Jim Gibbs is crew leader. Other boys in the ship are Frank Hibbard, Tony Roegiers, Harold Libby, John Lathan, Jim Ricketts and Phil Gardner. They have lined up a new crew with David Gregerson, Frank Braly, Ken Wagner, Dick Sutliffe and Richard Gadd planning on registering for next year.

Walter Edwards, who had been skipper for several years prior to 1960, then established a perpetual trophy for the ship. This was to be awarded in recognition of the efforts and interest of the boy who earned the greatest number of work-hours for the ship during the year. This award he presented to Donald Flenner as the 1959 winner.

Have You Tried The Bypass? We Recommend It!

How do you like whizzing in about and around Walnut Creek, without a care for stop lights and long lines of automobiles, trucks, motorcycles and the like? That new Walnut Creek Bypass is really great, isn't it?

But if you are having fun, you should have seen the city officials and other dignitaries at the dedication on Tuesday!

Mayor Farry Granzotto had a ball, expertly holding a welder's torch, along with State Highway Engineer J. P. Sinclair. Photographers begged both to take their time before they cut into the golden chain, stretched across the highest point of the three level interchange.

Class Advanced, Student Visitor Says at Acalanes

"A visit to the German III class at Acalanes was a great surprise to me. I had not expected to find a class which studied a foreign language in the third year reading a novel with considerably advanced vocabulary. In Germany, such a novel in the third year would be above our 'mental horizon'."

That's how Trudel Kuckelhaus, American Field Service exchange student from Munster, Germany, described her visit last week to an Acalanes High School third year German class taught by teacher James Garvey.

"In my school at home in Germany," Miss Kuckelhaus explained, "in the third year of our foreign language study of English, we occupy our time mainly with grammar and vocabulary. languages are not elective and the class has to drag along quite a number of uninterested students."

Trudel visited the Lafayette High School for one week. She is currently attending a high school in Marin county while staying at a foster parent home during her exchange visit to this country.

Miss Kuckelhaus expressed herself as "very impressed by the excellent standards of the Acalanes German class."

Law Students to Hear Attorneys

St. Mary's College students interested in the legal profession will receive a briefing from veteran alumni attorneys Thursday.

Under the sponsorship of the Lawyers' Guild of the St. Mary's College Alumni Association, a panel will discuss major areas of the profession open to the prospective lawyer, and the preparation necessary for each.

Can't Sleep?

Here's Wonderful News

Do you worry about your sleep . . . uncertain whether tonight will be another of those long, endless nights you dread? Now at last, you can stop worrying . . . and start sleeping! Science, you see, has found a natural way to help ease nervous tension — one of the principal causes of insomnia — without the use of habit-forming drugs.

Knowing that calcium is needed for efficient heart and muscle action and proper functioning of the nerves, scientists looked to milk — the only practical food source of calcium — for a solution to sleeplessness. They studied its effects in relieving the nervous tension of both children and adults. Test results showed that the inclusion of calcium-rich milk in the diet reduced fatigue and strain.

Now you can safeguard your sleep just by drinking two or three glasses of milk a day. They will provide the calcium intake needed to assure sound, restful sleep. Why not try a glass of milk at bedtime tonight? Whether you prefer it warm or cold, milk is nature's way to help you relax and sleep.

Applications Accepted For Summer CEC Program

Application forms for CEC were distributed last week at Miramonte High School for participation in the Career Exploration Course which is open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors as part of the summer school program.

The opportunity to gain direction in the choice of career by actual experience on the job proved so popular last year that more students will be included in the present course.

THROUGH THE cooperation of the Acalanes High School District and a citizens' advisory committee, this year 50 selected Miramonte students will have the chance to actually experience jobs they think they might like to make their life work.

"Close supervision will assure that each student receives a realistic experience upon which to make decisions as to his future career," according to Mrs. Elizabeth Chilton, coordinator of the CEC program here.

Applicants in the CEC program may apply at the counseling office by April 1.

"Each job opportunity will be tailored to the professed desire of the student applicant," Dr. Paul Slattery, member of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, charged with securing job openings, declared today.

"WE ARE PREPARED to offer career exploration in any occupation. Students are invited to apply for any field in which they are interested, and we will supply a worthwhile job experience," Dr. Slattery promised.

Prominent leaders in the community who will provide the job experience include Dr. Slattery, James Campbell, Clarence Dunn, Roscoe Hughes, Miles Sutliffe and Ken White.

Mrs. Garniss Curtis, psychometrist at the University of California, will work on selections and evaluation with Mrs. Chilton, Robert Callan, dean of boys at Miramonte, and Lloyd Hunt, Miramonte head counsellor.

ACTING IN A consultive capacity will be Mrs. J. Gordon Ainsworth, public relations consultant and Rex Collings, University of California law professor.

Ken White will manage insurane problems and Mrs. Richard Leland will handle publicity and serve as secretary to the committee.

Japanese Girl Is Soroptimist Guest

Yoki Abe, the exchange student from Tokyo now living with the H. A. Betagues family of Lafayette, was the guest of the Lafayette-Orinda Soroptimist Club this week.

The Acalanes student said her father works for an electrical company in Tokyo, that she has a sister 16 years old, and that her mother is active in women's clubs. She explained that Japanese women's clubs are interested in flower arranging, cooking and homemaking, rather than raising funds and the charitable work of American women's clubs.

MISS ABE attended a private Tokyo high school for girls before coming to California, she said. She expressed a favorable reaction to this country. She plans to continue her studies at the University of Tokyo, and then go abroad in connection with the American Field Service program.

She said she was impressed by the feeling of international goodwill and understanding, and enjoyed her trip to the Olympic Games with the Acalanes a cappella choir.

FOLLOWING Miss Abe's talk, the a capella choir sang "Immortal Flame" and "These Things Shall Be." Carol Ansley sang "Is It a Crime" and "Better Than a Dream," both from "The Bells Are Ringing." She was accompanied by Paul Colin in the second selection.

Paul Colin and the chorus sang "I Met a Girl," followed by a trio, Jim Mossman, Fred Gandel and Bob Locke, who sang two popular songs. Cindy Hillard accompanied the singers with piano music.

Sisterhood Will Conduct Services

Sisterhood Sabbath will be observed at the regular Friday night services tonight at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, 3800 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, according to Rabbi David Robins.

Services will begin at 8:30 p.m., with officers of the Sisterhood in charge. A social hour sponsored by the Sisterhood will follow the services.

Cantor Henri Goldberg and the center choir, with Ellen Kropf at the organ will also participate.

Moraga Couple On Honolulu Trip

John T. Taylor, manager of the Oakland agency, California - Western States Life Insurance Company, Oakland and Mrs. Taylor left this week to attend his firm's leading producers' club convention in Honolulu.

The Oakland underwriter and his wife, Daphne, will join 412 Cal-Western Life agents and wives for the convention at the Princess Kaiulani and Surf Rider Hotels on Waikiki Beach.

Attendance at the firm's leading producers club convention was earned by meeting company standards for both production and quality of new business during the past two-year period.

In addition to attending business sessions, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will be taken on tours of Oahu Island and Pearl Harbor and also will be entertained at several dinner meetings and other functions.

The Taylors live at 27 Freitas Drive, Moraga.

EVERYTHING NEW, EVERYTHING WONDERFUL IN SPRING FASHIONS

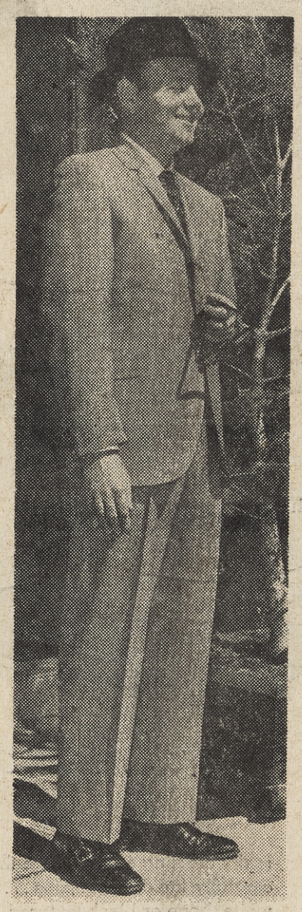
Spring is in the air . . . and it means a light, new look at life. This is the tme when flowers bloom, nature puts on her spring clothes, and we human beings do likewise. So here is a look at what is new in fashions . . . as light and breezy as a warm spring day . . . and as refreshing for the whole family.

MRS. WILLIAM STEVENS adds a touch of French chic to our suburban landscape, promenading in Fiesta Fashions' versatile black and white cotton by Carol Craig. Her hat is of black Milan heightened by a red cabbage rose. Mrs. Stevens models by courtesy of the Studio of Charm, Lafayette.

THIS PURE SILK dress and jacket combination from Goldman's boasts a slim sheath dress with jewel neckline, black-and-white printed skirt, with black patent belt and plain white top. The jacket is a cardigan with three-quarter sleeves bound in black braid, also in the print, $29.95. With the costume is worn a white straw beret, large patent bag, and patent shoes, all at Goldman's. Shoes are by Goldman's Shoe department.

MISS JUDY BARTLETT, freshman at Diablo Valley College, shows a toast colored, all-wool suit with bone accessories in purse, gloves and hat. John Ogden, a sophomore, models a new bone-colored Tami jacket with Scott Form Insulation. Both are part of the wonderful assortment of Spring merchandise now at Ogden's in Orinda.

MRS. MARGE SUTTON of Lafayette shows the new high heel styles at Sutton's Shoe Store in Lafayette. The new high heels are introduced as a permanent attraction at the store along with Nylon Hosiery and Handbags.



THIS PETROCELLI Glen plaid in a continental model comes to suit every size and figure at Grodins. Furthermore, it is available in opulent olive and burnished gold for only $99. The hat is a turned brim Disney.

THIS LIGHTWEIGHT PLAID spring coat in red, white and blue, is at Joseph Magnin's, $79.95. A navy straw beret, worn back with the new halo look, is worn with it, $13.95. This is one of many suits in Magnin's new spring collection.

ANNE BRUSH, daughter of the Frank Brushs' of Orinda wears a blue drip-dry cotton styled by Kate Greenaway to herald the Easter season for children. The dress, from the Orinda Pixie Shop, shows a waist detailed with small pin tucks while a row of gay daisies complete the decoration. The full skirt is held in place by a horse hair petticoat styled by Playwell Creations.

THERE'S cool comfort for spring and summer in these handsome casuals in hawthorn brown smooth leather.

PICTURED IS Sandra from Sandra Joy Casuals wearing a black plaid Galey-Lord, wash and wear tarpoon suit in lovely shades of brown. Made by Chestnut Hill and perfect for Easter wear.

Leather Shoes Lean to Leisure

Men's leather shoes are marching in a more leisurely rhythm this spring, according to the shoe fashion service of Leather Industries of America.

The great increase in leisure and leisure clothing has inspired an abundance of new casual footwear in light airy leathers and bright spring and summer shoe color.

White is the most striking spring and summer shoe color.

DIANA HAYES, 6 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Jr. of Orinda coyly models a lovely, spring-fresh full-skirted dress of crisp cotton with its own eyelet pinafore from Heaven to Eleven Children's Store in Orinda.

IRENE THIES shows Harou's black-and-white sheer of imported cotton. Cap sleeves and full skirt are important, and it comes complete with a white Swiss organdy petticoat and black patent belt. Mrs. Marshall Taylor models.

PERSONALLY selected in Guatemala is this beautiful two-piece, completely hand-woven cocktail dress in coral, highlighted with metallic threads throughout. This is but one of the distinctive selection brought back by Claudy from her recent trip to Central America. The beautiful model is from Lafayette's Studio of Charm.

PURE SILK is just the material for an afternoon dress as this black organza creation modeled by Elsie Hunter from The Studio of Charm demonstrates. The dress, an original by Pat Bowers, comes from The Emporium of Lafayette.

'Sailors' Leading The Hats

Leading the hat parade into spring are sailor shapes, looking newest with up-swept fronts, and many expressions of height, including tall pillboxes, turbans, toques which often telescope, and cloches with bell crowns.

"Hattier" hats, stressing bulk with a light and airy effect, usually show forward movement in one way or another, leaving it to the little hats to sit on the back of the head.

The latter are styled in a dressy vein, with trimmings of feather wings, flowers or veils.

Attractive exceptions are large, full-blown berets which move to the back of the head.

Navy and white is a favorite color combination here, and these berets are particularly recommended for wear with pleated-skirt suits, Chanelmood ensembles and suits with short young jackets and lightly rounded skirts.

Height and "hattiness" both are helpful in complementing the many spring silhouettes that emphasize top interest, through widened shoulders and short, full sleeves.

Flower hats continue to garner bouquets. All-flower types in unusual color combinations are offered as accompaniments to white and whitened tones.

KLAD-EZEE, Broadway, Walnut Creek, has a variety of outfits for youngsters in the Children's and Pony Tail Shop. Here, Theresa Favreau models a Ruth Original dress with matching parasol while Scott Latham proudly wears a white wool Eton jacket with matching Navy blue short pants, while Kay Madison shows us a white Arnel suit by Glen of Michigan.

AL BAER OF THE Village Shoe Shop in Orinda uses his very own models to show the latest in spring shoe fashions and for Easter wear. Denise Baer (left) is wearing black patents with small nylon bow while sister Leana Baer dons white, with swivel strap. Shoes are the famous Pied Piper brand and fitted with orthopedic care as well as stylish appearance.

MR. HENRI of Lafayette presents this lovely new hair style for spring using the delightful bouffant French twist. Model is Ellen Meiller who fashioned the style for a dessert fashion show recently.

Deep Sleeve, Cinch Waist Is Popular

Newsiest style trends in this spring's lovely florescence of dresses are the deep sleeve, cinched waist and rounded hipline.

Enhancing the costume look, jacketed dresses are very impressive. The coat dress is a great favorite.

Silk has a major fashion fabric role.

VARIATIONS on the shoulder width theme, some lowering of waistlines and adjusting of hems, belling of shirtwaists and rippling of pleats all add to spring fashion drama in dresses.

Highlighting top width, sleeves blossom big in bell, three-quarter puffed and wide batwing shapes.

There's ample under-arm fullness emphasized in dolman sleeves or loosely draped over-the-shoulder styles.

Lower setting of sleeves adds to the popular "dropped shoulder" idea.

THIS DESIGNER technique is also played up with removable capelets, large round collars and bi-color sectioning, especially effective on the more popular slim skirts.

Black and white is a leading color combination for spring. White lace ruffles at cuffs and necklines are pretty and feminine.

Ruffles have generally gained importance, showing on hemlines and cuffs of after-five dresses and set in tiers on party and evening dresses.

Black dress costumes have white inset bodices and white lined jackets, some reversible.

SPRING IS truly a silk season with tweeds, surah, linen-like silks, taffeta and chiffon showing up beautifully.

Cotton and silk blends, along with many novelty fabrics that have a silken effect, register an easy informal note for daytime wear.

Silk print costumes feature muted florals in subtle tones of blue, brown and cocoa including fine brushstroke plaids and splash prints.

There are more vivid tones, too, such as sapphire blue and raspberry red.

WOOLS ARE often lacy and sheer.

Dominant neckline is round and high, using large collars, very small ones or none at all.

Clothing Picture for '60 Boasts Wide Variety

The clothing picture for spring 1960 encompasses more action and certainly more variety than a TV horse opera, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

The American Continental suit, introduced only a short time ago, has taken off with all the zip of a moon rocket.

It is now worn in many interpretations, including those with square tailored shoulders as well as those with natural shoulders.

THERE ARE two-button Continentals, three-button Continentals, and Continentals with lapels that are peaked, semi-peaked, notched and in the rounded "clover-leaf" style.

But with all their popularity, Continentals are getting some stiff competition from the classic natural shoulder Ivy styles and the trimly tailored American Ambassador models as well as the extremely popular conservative style known as the American Natural model.

As a result, the American man can select the model that best suits his tastes and still be on the fashion ball.

His choice is really even wider than these four popular models would suggest.

TAKE THE matter of weight, for instance. For early spring wear there is a greatly expanded selection of the newly popular midweights.

THIS DANISH DINING group is hand crafted by the world's finest workmen. Available in either teak or walnut, it can be seen at Danish House in Walnut Creek. The China, flatware, crystal and other accessories in the finest taste are all available at Danish House.

Fabrics Are Crispy, Airy, Textured to Polished

Fabrics for spring fashions range from crisp to airy, from subtly textured to smoothly polished.

Ottomans, in silk, wool, or cotton, exemplify the discreet look in texture.

The subtle ease of new styles leads to prominence for crepes—wool, silk, rayon and other synthetics—knits and knit effects.

WIDELY-POPULAR silk is all things to all fashions—sometimes smooth and satiny, sometimes rustling-crisp, and, again, sheer and airy.

As for surface texture, silk has every kind from the slubs of shantung to the ribs of cottoman.

Interest in worsteds spurs increased use of twill, covert, sharkskin, gabardine and other smooth-of-surface, crisp-to-touch fabrics.

Although most are derived from menswear, they're given the feminine feeling through lighter weight.

MANY WOOLS have the airy look—basketweaves, hopsackings, tweeds.

Boucles and petit point effects carry out the trend to feminine refinements in fabrics.

Lustrous zibelines stand out among the polished fabrics. Blending of fibers, natural and man-made, continues at a great rate.

Whether alone or in blends, both the man-made fibers and cotton concentrate on making a fresh, different appearance.

PREFERENCE for the supple and airy in fashion fabrics is responsible for two unusual developments.

Supple wool and worsted jerseys are present in quantities surprisingly large for this season

Separates Are Looking 'Separate'

What's exciting in sportswear for 1960? "Separate" separates! Chanel costume look! Madras plaids! Whitened and muted colors!

Energetically "on - the - go," spring sportswear echoes a gamut of moods.

There are attractive separates for travel, office, school, sports, home and garden—all fashionable and refreshing.

SOLIDS team up with color-coordinated prints, but the trend is toward separates that are truly "separate"—that mix well, rather than match.

More and more contrasting fabrics and textures, as well as colors, are used.

Madras and madras-type plaids are everywhere, and madras-like deep tones appear in batik prints of jungle, garden, harlequin and South Sea island derivation.

GINGHAMS, denim and seersucker attract special attention.

Popular is the Chanel look, with easy - hanging jacket, shorter overblouse and pleated skirt.

Shirtwaists continue in high favor, with an interesting use of separates to give a "shirtwaist look."

Highlighting Current News, Spring Fashion

Sharkskin and gabardine make a strong comeback as fabrics for suits.

Other popular choices include silk, silk-wool blends, airy basketweaves and tweeds, supple crepes and jerseys and dressy ottomans.

Stopping short at seven-eighths length are spring coats that team up with a matching skirt or complete suit.

COATS IN this length also pair with dresses, are lined to match.

Alaska fur seal, cropped to new lengths, looks smart in black over spring-favored houndstooth checks.

Lots of patch pockets around! They grow to giant size on some gardening skirts, culottes and long tunics.

Gray, like most other colors, lighter this spring, is particularly favored in glen plaids.

HINTS OF lowered waistlines to come are seen in dresses with midriff detail—contrasting colors or fabrics, bias cuts, seaming—creating a long-torso effect.

Some designers drop skirt lengths an inch or two, to balance fashionable top width.

"Country look" in fabrics, as shown by homespuns, denims, corded and ribbed surfaces, is favored for young sportswear.

LOVELY CHARLENE Hallenbeck models a linen weave rayon creation from Feminine Fancies, Orinda Village. Sheath is a tantalizing toast tone and the bodice is detailed in beige and cantaloupe bands punctuated with pearl buttons. This smart, slim silhouette is accented with cantaloupe cloche and gloves. The bag is handmade of handwoven brown fabric imported from Siam.

Handbag Width Matches Skirt

The height of the hemline dictates the widht of the handbag this spring.

And with fashions in hemlines presenting many differences, according to the style or the occasion, new leather handbag shapes are more varied than they have been for many years.

To harmonize with shorter skirts, handbag stylists have come up with broader "horizontal" bags in smooth, grained, antiqued and suede leathers.

LONG TORSO detail — an emerging fashion note—calls for correspondingly lowered hemlines, to be accompanied by a long, vertical envelope of firm, antiqued calf or an oversized pouchy satchel of suede leather.

Gaining in popularity is a spacious half-circle of grained leather that is at its handsomest when teamed with a tailored spring dress.

Detail interest comes from belting, shirred effects and horseshoe-shaped padded handles.

Calf, cowhide, kid and suede leather in bone, taupe, green and amber merge with softly understated gabardine coats as well as with chiffon dresses.

ALLIGATOR and reptile in vivid colors—turquoise and shocking pink—contrast with suits of pastel plaids and gray men's wear flannels.

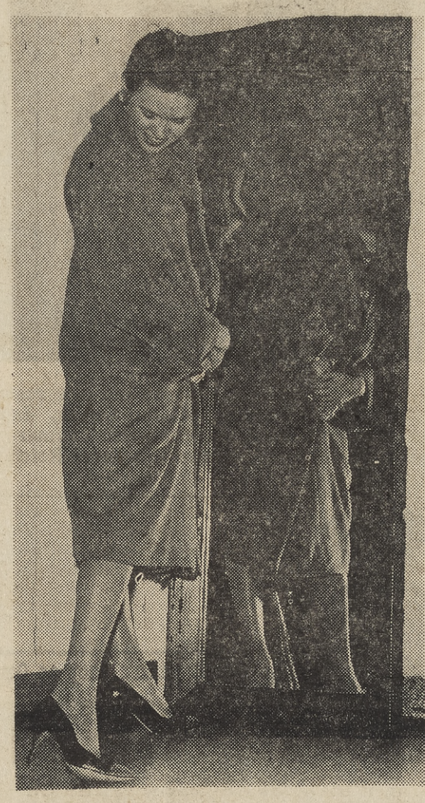
Smart Designs Mark Men's Sportswear

Bold patterning, bright colors and smart designs mark men's sportswear for spring 1960.

The range of ideas is further increased by having the sports shirts, sweaters, slacks, walk shorts, sports jackets and outerwear keyed to either Continental or Ivy styling.

Some new models combine features of both Continental and traditional design.



SO PRETTY YOU HAVE to see them twice are the Miiji high-heeled pumps from the Village Shoe Rack. The navy blue calf pumps feature red calf toes studded with gold nailheads. Pointed toes are still definitely IN this spring.

Spectators Are Queen In Spring

Spectators are queen among spring shoe fashions, with new styling that starts where the traditional brown-and-white spectator leaves off.

Seen in daytime, casual and evening shoes, spectators appear in combination of smooth leathers in contrasting colors, and in new combinations of smooth and suede, suede and patent, smooth and grained, and subtle blends of suede and soft brushed leathers, reports the shoe fashion service of Leather Industries of America.

Many are in creamy shades of bone, barley-beige, cobbler tan and others in the brown family, as well as in gray, lilac, olive, comet blue and rose.

White, by itself or with other colors, is the most important single color in spring and summer shoes.

In addition to all-white spectators, there are highlights in white on dressy pumps and sandals.

Another important group, as spring travels on, are frosted spring and summer pastels in a full range of leather textures that are especially light in weight.

These colors — notably yellow tulip, coral, Paris rose and lilac —have a whitened look.

MISS JEAN PERKINS wears a beige dance frock of pure silk. The bodice is of imported lace and chiffon. Cummerbund and draped back add a note of interest to this lovely, slim dress by Miss Elliette. Rhinestone jewelry is by Hobi. Both are from the Brass Lantern of Lafayette.

THE CLOTHES HORSE is showing a two-piece ensemble of gold and bone. The modified mandarin coat is in gold, lined with polka dot fabric in gold and bone. The sheath dress is in the polka dot fabric and all are of Sun Silk.

Jewish Center Plans Action

The public is cordially invited to participate in an auction Sunday, April 3, to benefit the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center in its drive for construction of a new building. The auction will take place in the present Center which is located at 3800 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

Many new and expensive items have been donated to the auction by local merchants and businessmen. For example, there will be new refrigerators, bedroom sets, money orders for men's clothing and many wanted items.

All of these will be put on the auction block and can be expected to go for considerably less than the market price.

Many other household and personal items of new or like-new quality have been donated by local members, according to Sydney Ross of Walnut Creek, ways and means chairman.

Banquet for New 'Eagles' QM Winners, Is April 19

Mt. Diablo Council's annual banquet to honor Boy Scouts and Explorers who have achieved the Eagle Rank and for Quartermaster Award during 1959 will be held at 1601 Willow Pass Road, Concord, April 19 at 6:30 p.m.

The event will give each boy the experience for a day in the company of a business, industrial, or professional leader of the community, whose occupation and hobbies most nearly match the Scouts' major interest.

Questionnaires have been sent to each of the hundred or so boys who qualified last year.

On the basis of replies, men are selected by the Council Advancement Committee through the chairman in each of the seven districts of the Council.

In many cases, the boy is then quainted and learning about his business.

In the evening they will attend the banquet together, where a special program in commemoration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of Scouting in America will be given.

A selected Eagle Scout will speak as representative of the boys, and there will be a top speaker from industry.

King Parker Will Seek County's Senate Seat

King Parker, Jr., prominent Walnut Creek businessman, today filed his declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator.

Parker said "I am seeking this office because I believe in the future of our county. The incumbent belongs to a team whose objectives would retard Contra Costa's growth and thriving economy. No representative can possibly serve this county and be loyal to a party striving to initiate a program that would be detrimental to practically every industry fronting on our north shore."

PARKER HAS BEEN active in civic affairs in the central county for the past 10 years. He has served on the Walnut Creek Chamber's planning and development committee and, as its chairman, initiated a program designed to induce industry to locate here.

He has been a vigorous supporter in the proper development of controlled manufacturing and industrial lands and the encouragement of new manufacturers to locate here.

Parker has been active in several organizations devoted to the guidance, training and proper development of our youth. He is a member of the executive board of Mt. Diablo Council Boy Scouts of America and has served in various capacities of the Boy Scout movement for over 15 years.

"I BELIEVE that much more can be done by our legislature in the field of juvenile problems than has so far been attempted, and I will not only present my views to the voters, but a positive program designed to put these ideas into action."

The candidate, a native of San Francisco, has been active in the Republican party since moving to Contra Costa County 11 years ago and is a past president of the Walnut Creek Young Republicans, and was a director of the County Young Republican organization. He has participated in every campaign since 1952 and has served as a member of the County Republican Central Committee.

He and his wife Carol live in Alamo. They have four sons; King 18, Stanley 16, Stuart 9 and Bill 2.

Easter Seal Drive Not by Telephone

The current Easter Seal campaign to finance services for the physically handicapped will not use telephone solicitation or other "pressure methods," according to William T. Butner, president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County.

"The Easter Seal campaign in California is traditionally a mail appeal.

Contributions shoul be sent in the return envelope that was enclosed with the Easter Seals and our appeal letter, or to 'Crippled Children' in care of the local postmaster," he said.

The Arch of Topaz of Herrick Hospital Guild is composed almost entirely of area residents, who met with their invited guests at the home of their president, Mrs. Donn Court of 3651 Boyer Circle, Lafayette.

Surprise Party Honors Birthday

A surprise birthday party honoring Mrs. Harrie R. Vroman was given Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Vroman, Studebaker Road, Lafayette.

Co-hosts were Mr. and Mrs. James R. Parsons, of Piedmont. Mrs. Parsons is a sister to Donald Vroman and both are the children of Mrs. Harriet Vroman, who was 70 March 20.

The rumpus room of the Vroman home was decorated with a green and white St. Patrick's theme that blended with the many gifts on the money tree.

Relatives and friends from near and far gathered to honor Mrs. Vroman, who also received 40 cards by mail from her former home town of Rochester, Minnesota, and areas in Iowa.

A cake decorated with green and white was served, with champagne punch, buffet delicacies and turkey and ham.

Among the 46 guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Hillman of Walnut Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burke and family of Orinda.

Fashion Show Date Set

Fashions with the gala Kate and Advocate Ball in mind will be the order of the day at the April 7 meeting of Lawyers' Wives of the East Bay.

Mrs. Nathan Gray will open her home in Orinda for the event, which will begin with an informal buffet luncheon at noon. During this time models showing clothes from William Silva of Montclair will mingle among the members and guests assembled on the terrace and lanai.

The ball, which will be held at the Sequoyah Country Club on May 14, is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold Jewett.

Mrs. Robert Kroninger, president of Lawyers' Wives, urges a large attendance at this meeting in order that the many new members can become acquainted.

The couple plan to be married on April 2 at St. Perpetua's Church in Lafayette. A reception immediately following the ceremony will be held at Gimbo's restaurant in Rheem.

"fashions need not be expensive"

Meet Marie Monahan, Always on the Run

Talented, Charming, She Loves Life and People

By JEAN JERNIGAN

"I love people, I love all kinds of people! There is really nothing that I don't like to do!" said Mrs. Marie Monahan in friendly enthusiasm.

Marie is Mrs. Odie Monahan who lives at 10 Loma Vista, Orinda with her husband, two sons and a daughter and an assortment of pets that vary in kind and number with the seasons.

Readers of The Sun are familiar with Mrs. Monahan's talent, spontaneous wit and love of life that make her columns sparkle. We discovered Mrs. Monahan in person to be just as glowing as her writings.

IN LOVE WITH life and her family she says, "I have drawn a wonderful appreciation of so many things from my husband, he is the smartest man I know."

California born and educated, Marie attended University High in Berkeley, Business College and Marin Junior College. She is looking forward to a class reunion on May 7, the first her class from University High has held in years.

Sentimental about Orinda, Mrs. Monahan said, "We use to spend our summers and weekends in Orinda. In those days a weekend in Orinda was an expedition. I have so many happy memories of Orinda from my childhood that I am delighted to have a home here now.

"I think there is no place like Orinda, but next to Orinda I love Washington Square, New York City." The Monahans lived in New York for awhile before coming home to Orinda 12 years ago.

WHILE IN New York, Mrs. Monahan did some work for John Lardner, and some sports writing for children. She said, "Sometime when I am an old lady I will write children's stories, something my grandchildren may read."

The Monahans are all "word happy" and like to do crossword puzzles, talk in rhymes, write for fun and read, read, read. Son Chip, 13, writes stories already.

Writing and rhying are fun for Mrs. Monahan, who started writing in high school. Her background includes writing for the Windsock," the Women Marine Corps newspaper, professional writing in New York, and her work here.

PRESENTED WITH a beautiful rhyming dictionary by a thoughtful friend, Mrs. Monahan is frequently teased about the "dictionary on the shelf." She said, "The truth of the matter is that this dictionary is so big, beautiful and complicated that I never use it. Rhyming is fun to do and so easy, that I really don't have to dig for it."

Marie and her husband, Odie, met while both were marines at the Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point, North Carolina. They were good friends months before either thought of the other in terms of romance, and Mrs. Monahan said, "I always tell people that I married my best friend."

The Monahans are still "good friends" who truly enjoy spending an evening talking together, or reading. Marie likes to create an "atmosphere" for parties, decorate for holidays, and in general make every occasion a "special one." Of Norwegian descent, she uses Scandinavian decor frequently.

FAMILY FUN is frequently of a musical nature. The children like to sing, and bang away on the piano. Mrs. Monahan plays, and writes both music and lyrics.

"I play strictly for fun and my own and the family's pleasure," she remarked, "I couldn't live without music and play to feed my soul."

Mrs. Monahan formerly was active in a variety of volunteer work, including the Orioles and Mothers Club, but she said, "Now I want to devote more time to the children and their affairs."

THESE AFFAIRS include cub scouts for son Bill, girl scouts for daughter Megan Kathleen, 10 and boy scouts for Chip. Concerned about the type of motion pictures now available to all ages, she is crusading for a motion picture council, in the hope that Orinda mothers will unite to see better films available for Orinda youngsters.

Busy now with activities centered around her children, Mrs. Monahan said, "There is room for everyone to have a turn doing something. Too often the same ones assume leadership, and others get left behind. I believe people need to be asked to do things, that they need to feel needed."

Ritchie Smith Takes Part In Large Archeological Expedition

New Group Studying Finds Under Mexican Waters

By LARRY GLAZIER

A fantastic expedition—one which resulted in what has been called "the richest shipwreck yet found in the Western Hemisphere"—was relived last weekend at the Orinda home of Ritchie C. Smith.

Smith, who resides at 8 Santa Lucia, was playing host to Don Pablo Bush Romero, Mexico City auto dealer, noted adventurer and explorer and head of CEDAM, a new organization under the auspices of the Mexican government.

The initials stand for "Club de Exploraciones y Deportes Acuaticos de Mexico," in in simpler terms, the Club for Explorations and Sports Within the Waters of Mexico.

An outgrowth of the Frogmen of Mexico, the new group was formed last year by "Don Pablo," and has been commissioned to "locate, explore and extract archeological and historical underwater treasures and oil deposits and other mining riches" found under the waters off the eastern coast of Yucatan, Mexico.

In addition, CEDAM has the responsibility of realizing "all types of underwater explorations in archeological zones and to promote historical studies related with seashores, lagoons, lakes, rivers and other similar places.

Through a chain of circumstances which began with Smith's devoted love of fishing, the Orindan was invited to become a member of CEDAM and he took part in the group's first expedition last summer.

THE EXPEDITION, which since has received nationwide publicity through a series of articles in Saturday Evening Post, centered around the wreck of the Matanceros, a trading vessel which presumably was sunk sometime between 1740 and 1750.

Location of the wreck is about 20 feet under the Caribbean Sea a mile off the coast of Yucatan, and Mendel Peterson, head curator for the department of armed forces history of the Smithsonian Institute, has proposed that the site be considered a national monument for Mexico.

It was Peterson who called CEDAM's expedition "the richest merchant shipwreck yet found in the Western Hemisphere," and he identified the ship as a British vessel enroute from Jamaica to Mexico to trade with the Mayan Indians.

BUSH VISITED with Smith from last Wednesday until Sunday, and he spoke to a group of Smith's friends at the Orinda Country Club Thursday evening. During the evening, he showed a sound color film of the expedition.

Smith's story of how he came to be a member of the expedition team last July and August is in itself an almost unbelievable adventure.

About 15 months ago, in January, 1959, Smith and his wife Betty, both ardent fishermen, were looking for a remote island, free of tourists, with lots of sunshine and clear waters, which presented an opportunity for good bonefishing and tarpon fishing.

THROUGH A friend with the Rand-McNally Map Company, the Smiths found just what they wanted in the little island of Cozumel, located 32 miles off the east coast of Yucatan about 600 miles south of New Orleans.

The island is 28 miles long by about 10 miles wide, and its population consists of five white men and somewhat more than 3000 natives. Cozumel was the assembly point for the ships of Cortez just prior to the Mexican Conquest in 1520.

While on the Isle of Cozumel during their first visit there in January, 1959, the Smiths met Emmett Gowen, a writer for the Fawcett Publications, who had been assigned to write an article on the nearby Boca Paila Fishing Camp for the 1960 edition of Fawcett's "Fishing Yearbook."

THE YEARBOOK, with its story on Boca Paila and the Smiths, has just been published.

Boca Paila is located about 50 miles south of Cozumel, and the lagoon goes about 15 miles into the Yucatan Channel. Gowen identified himself and the Orindans as the first "Norte Americanos" ever to visit the secluded area.

Smith recalls, "The fishing was out of this world—primarily bonefish, tarpon and longusta (lobster)—and while there, we also heard of some ancient Mayan ruins which could be found in the area. I showed an immediate interest in what was to become my brand new obsession."

INCIDENTALLY, Smith and his wife just returned from another trip to Boca Paila, during which they spent a considerable amount of time discovering some of the ruins in the lagoon. The Orindan reported some of their recoveries have been identified as articles more than 3000 years old.

Gowen, who had been on a safari to Africa with Bush some time ago, saw an area of mutual interest between the Mexico City adventurer and Smith, and introduced the two men in Mexico City a short time later.

Smith and "Don Pablo" hit it off well from the start, and from that time on, the Orindan was a member of the 65-man CEDAM expedition.

THE MOVING company executive explained that the day he arrived on Cozumel, headquarters for the three-week "treasure hunt," I received the gruesome news that the plane carrying all of the expedition's equipment had crashed, resulting in a total loss to all of the materials."

But Mexican government officials and the Mexican Navy cooperated to a great extent, he added, and managed to supply CEDAM with the required equipment.

Smith stayed aboard the expedition's vessel most of the time during the hunt, and he performed the laborious task of cleaning all of the coral from the items which the others located.

HIGHLIGHT of the trip was the extracting of a large cannon from off the Matanceros, Smith said. Other treasures included crucifixes and other articles which were being brought to the area for trading purposes.

Smith said the most exciting part of the voyage, as far as he is concerned, was "the opportunity it provided for a better understanding between the people south of the border and those north of the border."

CEDAM plans a second expedition this summer, which will center on a wreck near Cancum, a point near the north tip of the Yucatan Peninsula. This ship, he said, is believed to have been sunk about 1520, the year of the Mexican Conquest.

OTHER PLANNED trips will be to the Boca Paila area, where there is believed to be a sunken city, according to Smith.

Another new group, the Middle American Archeological Society, has indicated an interest in the CEDAM undertakings, and while at the Smith's home, Bush visited with leaders of the group, including J. Keith Pope of Walnut Creek.

REMNANTS OF the first expedition of CEDAM, the archeological group supported by the Mexican government, held last summer off the coast of Yucatan are displayed by Ritchie C. Smith (left) and his guest, Don Pablo Bush Romero. "Don Pablo," who directed the expedition and heads CEDAM, visited at Smith's Orinda home last weekend to review last year's expedition and make plans for a new trip this summer. Smith became a part of CEDAM through an adventurous series of circumstances. —Sun photo by Hansen.

Quizzing of H. S. Grads Is Described

Contra Costa County high schools' survey of an ultimate 38,000 former sdutents in an effort to learn how well their schooling prepared them for college or a career, was described today to the East Bay Resea Council at a meeting in Richmond.

Roy Andreen, consultant in guidance and secondary education on the superintendent's staff, listed the steps taken in formulating a questionnaire for distribution to the graduating classes of 1959, 1957 and 1955.

The follow-up study is expected to last five years and cost $26,500, toward which an initial grant in federal funds has been made under the National Defense Education Act.

Allen Hearne, supervisor of testing and research for Richmond schools, was chairman of the meeting, held in the Richmond Schools Administration Building.

Dramateurs Hold Training Session

The third and final session of the Dramateur's school for young people who are interested in theatre began Saturday and will run through June 4.

Late registrations are still possible, either by calling Mrs. Winkworth, CL 4-5517, or by coming to the Lafayette Town Hall where the classes are held on Saturday mornings.

They are open to students from 8½ years old through high school, and are divided into four age groups: 8½ to 11 years old, meeting at 9 o'clock for creative dramatics; 11 and 12 years old, meeting at 10 o'clock; 13 and 14 years old, meeting at 11:15; high school students, meeting at 12:15 p.m.

THE SCHOOL will run a limited summer session with plans to be announced later, according to Mrs. Winkworth and Mrs. R. Swenning. Both are active members of the Dramateurs and teachers for the classes. Other members of the group contribute their knowledge and experience to the classes as consultants in their various special fields of interest.

The high school class has produced a one-act play which they have performed for the Lafayette PTA. They will repeat their performance for the May workshop of the Dramateurs, and will represent the organization with a repeat showing at the Diablo Pageant of Arts on May 30.

Meanwhile, tickets for the remaining performance of the Dramateur production of "Picnic" Sunday night are still available from Wirtabel Harris, CL 4-2460.

THE GROUP has augmented their sound system for this production according to John Read, who has been responsible for the overall development of this deparntment. They now have a tape recorder, a 3-speed record player, a 25-watt amplifier, and five speakers with a way of switching or combining them at will.

"The amplifier has been rewired to provide a system of monitoring tapes and records through head-phones. This permits cues to be taped which provides positive control for the operator. The system is portable and extremely flexible," John continued, "and will handle most sound problems the group may have to deal with."

The designing and building of this system was done almost entirely by John Read.

With Boyd Hunter, of the "Picnic" cast, he operates the entire sound cues for this current production.

Preps' New Warmups Can Shorten Baseball Games

By ERWIN MATTSON

One of the problems of baseball is the length of the game. The preps solved it in part by playing seven innings instead of nine.

A new idea which seems to be an excellent one really shortens the game from five to six minutes an inning. The procedure is very simple.

The pitcher at the beginning of his turn on the mound walks to it and throws one ball to the catcher who in turn relays it to second base and it's batter up. The idea is to eliminate the five, six, seven and more warm up throws by each pitcher as he opens the inning with his turn on the mound.

The warmup is taken on the sideline as he starts working with his catcher whenever two are down. If either the catcher or the pitcher are on base with two down they are replaced by a baserunner who can be anyone on the squad not already in the game.

We tried it in a recent game and it really cut playing time down and made for a faster moving game. It resulted in a full nine inning game being played in two hours flat.

Acalanes and Miramonte agreed to try it out in their league opener yesterday and chances are it will come into common usage.

It all goes to show that there is always something new and that progress is a constant thing. The difficulty will lie in selling the idea to all of the coaches as there are always some who will object to any change with human nature being what it is.

A survey recently released by the California Interscholastic Federation, which is the governing body of prep sports, showed that 163,119 high school athletes are taking part in sports during the 1959-60 school year.

It is interesting to note the number taking part in the various sports. As released the figures were as follows:

Baseball, 18,710; basketball, 27,670; cross country, 7387; football, 40,561; golf, 2615; gymnastics, 3485; skiing, 70; soccer, 264; swimming, 14,897; tennis, 7178; track and field, 33,022; water polo, 1800, and wrestling, 5459.

League play in baseball opened yesterday and on the basis of practice records it looks to be a good race in the Foothill Division where all clubs have shown ability to be a winner. The chances are that no one club will go undefeated.

Just a guess, but it's even money a club can lose three games and get no worse than a draw for the top spot.

The Pleasant Hill Rams are having their best year ever in sports and baseball looks to have a good chance of winning the league. Coach Lyle Parker's club has been registering wins and looks to have pitching depth and quality which is 75 per cent of the battle.

Mt. Diablo, usually the strength in the Contra Costa Division, looks to have problems as graduation hit them hard.

The Rams are hungry and they have been on a win streak and could be hard to stop. It will be interesting to see what happens to the Rams next year when they lose part of their students to College Park High.

Two-Hitter Helps Rams Win Third Straight Contest

The Pleasant Hill Rams varsity baseball team, playing at home last Friday, posted their third win in a row to stay undefeated as they posted a 3-1 win over the Las Lomas Knights.

Classy senior southpaw Ron Beardslee came close to a no-hitter as he had one for 6⅔ innings when Eric Nankivell hit a home run for the Knights. Another safe blow followed for the Knights' only two hits of the game.

Home runs also accounted for the Rams' runs with first baseman Fred Lucero blasting one in the second inning and Don Dameral hitting for the distance with one on in the sixth. The Rams collected six hits in the seven inning game while each club had one in the error column.

Batteries: Las Lomas — Just, Diel (4), Renny (6) and Stephenson. Pleasant Hill—Beardslee and Howerton.

Acalanes, Encinal and Napa High meet in a three-way meet at Alameda last Friday afternoon and when the final relay had been run the Encinal Jets had eked out a squeaky 58 3/8 points to the Avalanes Dons' 57 5/6 and Napa's 23½.

Alameda also won the Bee meet with 79 points to Acalanes' 42 and Napa's 18.

First place winners in the varsity meet were as follows:

120 H.H., Brown, E, 15.4; 880, Williams, E, 2:02.5; 100, Travis, N, 10.1; shot, Dornsife, A, 48-9¾; 440, Dodge, A, 53.8; 180 L.H., Brown, E, 10.5.

Also 220, Rinne, A, 22.5; B.J., James, E, 20-10; mile, Thompson, A, 4:38.5; P.V., Stulgis, E., 12-1¾; H.J., Tie: Lientz, A, James, E, White, E, 5-6; 880-yard relay, Encinal, 1:31.7.

In the Bee meet Charles Roeschen was a two-time winner for Acalanes as he took the 70-yard high hurdles in 9.5 and the 120-lows in 14.2.

Greater love had no man than my Jim when he insisted we buy a Medallion award home. This total-electric kitchen is one big reason. It's almost a breeze to cook for a crowd or just the two of us with my automatic range and oven, not to mention all these other wonderful electrical appliances.

Naturally, we have electric heating and air conditioning throughout the house which makes cleaning almost a pleasure. And this wonderful lighting both inside and outside... I wouldn't live in any other kind of house!

Jim feels the same way, except that he raves about the wiring. Says it's so well planned we can safely have every electrical appliance we want, now or ten years from now!

Whether you're buying, building or remodeling, protect your investment by insisting on Medallion standards of electrical excellence.

Spring Sports Move Into Full League Schedules

Acalanes Favored in Foothill Baseball, Net

The Foothill Division baseball play started in earnest yesterday, with a full round of play on tap as Acalanes opened at Miramonte and Los Lomas played host to San Ramon with Piedmont drawing the bye.

Acalanes, the defending champ, appear to have their hands full with Las Lomas and Miramonte coming up with good practice records while San Ramon looks to have one of their better clubs.

Piedmont, in their second year of competitive varsity ball, hardly figure as pennant contenders but do have enough veterans on hand to upset someone's applecart if they should take them for granted.

PLAY NEXT week is as follows: Tuesday, Miramonte at Las Lomas, Piedmont at San Ramon, Acalanes bye. Thursday, Piedmont at Miramont, Las Lomas at Acalanes, San Ramon bye.

Meanwhile, Acalanes, Miramonte and Piedmont appear to be the teams to beat in the division's tennis race.

The three tied for the top spot last season and it looks to be another close race with the edge going to the Dons, who, already loaded with veterans, received help in Charles Trippe, an exchange student from England who currently wields the number one racquet.

PLAY THE coming week is as follows:

Tuesday, Miramonte at Las Lomas, San Ramon at Piedmont, Acalanes bye.

Thursday, Miramonte at Piedmont, Las Lomas at Acalanes, San Ramon bye.

Pleasant Hill Opens Baseball Season Thursday

The Pleasant Hill Rams look to [illegible] to beat in the league race of the Contra Costa Division of the DVAL.

League play opens next Tuesday but the Rams won't swing into action until Thursday when they play Pacifica at home.

THE RAMS, with a bye in league play Tuesday, are set to meet the Acalanes Dons in a non-league tilt at Lafayette.

The Rams to date are undefeated, having trimmed Miramonte 13-2, Amador 13-1 and Las Lomas 3-1.

Coach Lyle Palmer's Rams have been playing steady ball and delivering in the clutch to the point where many pick them as the club to beat.

HIS TENTATIVE lineup for his first club finds five seniors, two juniors, two sophomores and a frosh shortstop who has drawn special attention with his play.

The starters who will probably go in the league opener are as follows:

Catcher, Bill Howerton, So; P, Ron Beardslee, Sr; 1st, Fred Lucero, Sr; 2nd, Dave Sheperd, Sr; SS, Dave Clark, Fr; 3rd, Don Demeral, Sr; LF, Don Lindeau, Sr; CF, Lennis Colwell, Jr; RF, Dennis Wallen, So.

Dons' Charles Eaton Is Versatile Coach, Teacher

Acalanes coach Charles LeMonde Eaton has a colorful background and along with it a reputation for being one of the top coaches in the field as his record of multiple championships shows.

Born in August, Ga., he moved with his family to Clifton, Ariz., at the age of five. His father worked there as a forest ranger. Three years later they moved to Fall Brook in southern California, then to Bishop in Owens Valley.

THE NEXT move was when Charley, or "Chuck" as he is referred to by his many friends, wound up in the eighth grade in southern California at Claremont.

It was there that he went to high school and was a four-letter man as he monogrammed in football, basketball, baseball and track.

He went to Pomona College in Claremont, and took part in football and track the first year. He concentrated on track the last three years in college and rated as one of the country's top javelin throwers attaining national ranking status.

In 1927, competing under the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, he tossed the javelin 212 feet.

IN 1924, competing while weighing but 145 pounds, he was competing in the Olympic tryouts tryouts held in Boston, and had a place on the U. S. Olympic team until he loaned his javelin to a Dartmouth man who beat him out by a foot.

He graduated from Pomona in 1925 and worked four years for a building materials concern. His work kept him indoors and one day looking out the window on a bright and sunny day he made up his mind to change it all by going back to school for a year and a half and get his teaching certificate.

The year 1930 saw him starting his teaching and coaching career at Colusa High School where he built an enviable reputation as a top flight coach who won championships in football, basketball, baseball and track.

In addition he coached the town football team and rated as one of the area's best softball pitchers.

IN 1942 Charley came to Acalanes and here he kept on winning championships in football, basketball, cross country, track and swimming.

Currently he is head of the physical education department at Acalanes and coaches cross country and track.

A fine organizer and full of enthusiasm he has turned out dozens of top performers and year after year has the team to beat.

He has two lovely daughters, both of whom graduated from Acalanes and married Acalanes graduates. Both sons-in-law are in the Air Force.

JODIE, the younger daughter, married Peter Searby and at present they are stationed at Tucson, Arizona, where they live with their three daughters.

Frances, the elder daughter, married John Gruver and is living at Vanderburg Air Base with a daughter and newly arrived son.

Charley, between his school work, an occasional round of golf and visiting his grandchildren, leads a busy and happy life. In the summer he teaches hundreds to swim.

He lives with his wife at 1752 Almond Avenue in Walnut Creek. Hats off to a coach to whom it can be said sincerely, "Thanks for a job well done!"

Matadors Nine Edges Liberty Behind 2-Hitter

The Miramonte Matadors won a 3-2 ball game from Liberty High of Brentwood with the Orinda diamond the secne of action.

The visitors drew first blood in the opening frame as they scored a run when lead-off hitter Jim Miner singled, went to second on a sacrifice and when Jim Kellog walked it put two on and all hands advanced on a wild pitch. Rich Ricoli hit a ground ball to second and while he was out on a fielder's choice Miner scrambled home with the run.

THE INNING ended without any further scoring on Liberty's part but Miramonte came back for a pair of runs in the bottom of the initial frame.

One was down when Brad Peters was on as the third baseman booted a ground ball, and the bases were plugged when Randy Thaman walked and Bill Hilger reached first when hit by a pitched ball.

Bruce Hancock struck out and then Bob Welch banged out a single to score Peters and Thaman in that order.

MIRAMONTE added what proved to be the winning run in the fourth when again with one out Tonascia singled and Walt Altorger followed with another safety. Peters followed with the third single in a row and it paid off as Tonascia scored with what proved to be the game winning run.

High School Costs Lower --Marchus

The cost of educating the Contra Costa County high school student of 1958-59 was below the statewide cost, County Superintendent Floyd Marcus said.

Among the six high school districts the cost per average daily attendance—equivalent to the cost per pupil — was $486, compared with a cost of $490 in all California high school districts.

Within the county, percapita expenditure ranged from $474 in Acalanes to $622 in John Swett District.

AT OTHER levels county costs were somewhat higher than statewide costs, he added.

Per elementary student, the Contra Costa County cost was $335 as compared with $326 statewide. Costs within the individual districts ranged from $277 for both Pinole-Hercules and Vine Hill School Districts to $743 expended on each of the 30 children at Selby School.

Selby is the smallest school in the county.

Unified district of Contra Costa County expended $403 on each unit of attendance, including both elementary and high school.

THIS COMPARES with a state figure of $395.

Costs per average daily attendance in the individual districts were $504 in Antioch, $368 in Mt. Diablo and $489 in Pittsburg Unified.

Contra Costa Junior College District expenditure per unit of attendance was $555 and the state's $520.

Tax Bills, Fire Bills And Check Stubs, Too...

When you take a look at your tax bill next year—after you have calmed down, that is—you might look at the tax you pay to your fire district.

As we all know, it isn't the basic county tax which makes our total bill so astronomical, although this contributes to the final crushing blow, but the many, many special districts to which we pay a few cents- or a few dollars, as the case may be.

The reason we suggest that you look at your fire district portion of your tax bill next year is that it may well be responsible for a good factor of the increase in your taxes.

Why so? Well, the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors next Tuesday will resume discussion on the compensation of firefighters and administrative people in the county's seven fire districts which are under board jurisdiction.

LAFAYETTE FIRE district does not fit into this category because it was formed under a different governmental act, but what is done by the board in relation to the rest of the first districts will have a lasting if not immediate effect on the Lafayette district.

So far, the county board has granted considerable benefits to the firefighters. in spite of recommendations of a county appointed committee which made different recommendations.

In each case, the board has been more lenient with regard to the demands of the firefighters than was the committee.

Now, nobody wants to see firemen starve to death. On the contrary, theirs is an exacting task, requiring skill and training and demanding long hours of duty.

But apparently, the projected compensation they will get is considerably in excess of that being given to other county employees.

This is a complex situation. There are many districts, many factors to consider, and many people to please.

But eventually, the problem is yours —if you are a homeowner and a taxpayer in this county.

You are the person who will receive the services of your fire department. You are the person who will pay the bill.

AND OBVIOUSLY, if the standards are raised for every fire district in the county except that of Lafayette, it won't take long for the Lafayette firefighters to hop on the bandwagon—who can blame them?

One of the considerations is the fact that on the committee appointed by the board were such people as County Auditor-Controller Howard McNamer, Personnel Director F. E. Emery and County Administrator Joseph McBrien.

These men are in a position to know what they are doing, but their recommendations do not appear to have been taken too seriously by the board. And what is the use of paying qualified men to advise you when you do not follow the advice.

The board has already approved provisions dealing with fringe benefits, such as sick leave, uniforms and vacation and insurance. Still to be considered is salary.

But whatever the outcome, you can rest assured that you will pay the bill. The County Fire Commissioners Association has already stated, flatly, that it will not assume any of the responsibility for the supervisors' actions and has stated that it feels that it would be against the public interest to grant any wage increase at this time.

What the board will choose to do remains to be seen.

But you'll end up holding the check stub, you can rely on that.

"GEORGE! — WHAT FINALLY POSSESSED YOU TO CLEAN UP THE BASEMENT?"

It's Not Too Late Yet... If We Work Together

We haven't had it yet!

If you are an "old timer' 'in Contra Costa County . . . that is, if you have been here for four or five years, you are probably already deploring the newcomers who are "moving in" on your established stamping grounds.

Some way or other, the old community isn't the same place that it was when you chose it for your home. New businesses have sprung up, new freeways have been constructed, new homes have been built.

And naturally, we are all critical of progress . . . especially when it is the kind of progress that isn't planned exactly as we would have it.

BUT WE HAVEN'T even started yet. The people who have lived here for 15 or 20 years have seen at first hand the phenomenal growth and change that has occurred . . . but they haven't seen anything yet!

And neither have we. We may think that everything that can be done to our community has been done . . . but this is not the case.

If you look at projected population figures . . . and there are several reliable sets . . . you can see at a glance that we have not even begun to touch the potential of our growth.

Instead of resting on our comfortable patio chairs and saying, "Heck, the damage has been done. It's too late now," we should realize that this is only the first surge of steady growth that will continue until the area reaches a real saturation point.

It is not too late to develop and put into practice good planning, and most important, good zoning.

Instead of facing "redevelopment programs" in the future, we can plan now so that this won't be necessary.

We all know that there are flagrant cases of bad or no planning right in our area. We have seen what this has done to the community, and the effect that it has had on our relationships with our neighboring communities.

But there is no need for bad planning or bad zoning, and it is not too late for us to correct any faults which have occurred, and more important, look forward and see that it does not occur in the future again.

We can develop our areas the way we want them.

It will take cooperation, understanding and time, but it can be done. We can then watch our community develop along orderly, logical lines instead of growing "like Topsy."

It is not too late to plan, and it is not too late to zone.

And we can look back—later—upon a job started in time and done well.

We Like It Here...
The Music Goes Down & Around, Da-Da, Whoa...

By MARIE MONAHAN

SOME PEOPLE have a certain passion, for things of music fashion.

Like Hi Fi & Stereo
Which when turned on full volume is enough to scare-eo
Us all right out of the house
In search of the passing parade or nightclub or cabaret which makes with the Big Noise night & day

ONLY it happens to be coming from our neighbor's habitat, from their absolute pet of a new stereo set . . .

WHAT A BLAST for the whole neighborhood!
Some of us aren't sure whether it's bad or good.
But it's THERE.
In the air.
With a blare!
You can't miss it OR dismiss it!
(Our proud neighbors practically expect you to KISS it!)

We are all informed that we do not play "records", c'est passe, tres uncouth!

We play "tapes," music from ribbons, that's the honest-to-gosh trouth!

So they expound & astound with the dynamic sound & there's no piece & quiet for Human or Hound.

The hostess says "Listen," she thinks we are tone deaf, but if they don't turn it DOWN, we're bound to go Stone deaf.

THE SET is controlled by so many dials that to learn how to operate it takes more than a few trials.

You can't even hear yourself talk in the crowd . . .
THE HOST might as well post a sign—"No Talking Allowed"—
(No, there's nothing serene about their Audio machine).
But it's obvious to all that they're having a Ball.
WHO do they think they are anyway . . .

CARNEGIE HALL?

We tape a turn with Van Cliburn, Leonard Bernstein, Shelley Berman & Marian Anderson who comes out sounding like Ethel Merman . . .

WELL! After a week of this kind of a diet, it'll be a long time before we try it or buy it!

We'll stick to our simple old record player.
With its records piled high, layer on layer & the next time the neighbors call us:
'C'MON OVER, We'll roll up the rugs!"
We'll gladly go, DADDY-O
But we'll wear
Our EAR PLUGS . . .

Month's Best Painting To Receive Ass'n Prize

At the April 25 meeting, the Diablo Art Association board will introduce a new feature, a "Painting-of-the-Month" competition.

Members will be asked to bring paintings completed during the previous month.

These will be discussed and a popular vote taken to select the choice of the evening. The winner will receive an award of $10.

THIS COMPETITION was suggested by Arthur Odbert of Lafayette, treasurer of the Diablo Art Association, as a stimulant to members for greater painting productivity, and for attracting new members.

President James Lawson of Alamo stressed that one need not be an artist or craftsman to join the Association.

One of the most interesting facets of the D.A.A. is the fact that the painting experience of its members ranges from the very recent painter to the professional artist. And several members are simply interested in attending art lectures and in assisting with painting exhibitions.

One of the major services the Diablo Art Association affords its members is the opportunity for one man showings.

EACH MONTH Exhibit Chairman Mrs. Mona Williams of Walnut Creek and her committee arrange at least 12 small shows on Contra Costa County.

Mrs. Vivian Cook of Lafayette is in charge of Kaiser Hospital exhibit; Mrs. Jane Laycox of Walnut Creek arranges the Comptons Walnut Creek show and Mrs. Ruth Hussey of Danville has charge of the Village Theatre and Alamo Medical Center hanging.

Mrs. Williams is in charge of the remainder.

The month of March will feature the following artists:

OTTO SCHUCHARD of Orinda, at Comptons, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Katy Hassler of Walnut Creek at the Village Theatre, Danville; James and Lida Lawson of Alamo at Alderson's Gallery, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Doris Whipple of Danville, Alamo Medical Center, Alamo.

Mrs. Irma Uhlrich, of Walnut Creek, demonstrated oil painting technique and Mrs. Barbara Galliano of Walnut Creek did pastel portraits.

The Staff Corner
...Are Pupils Martinets? Maybe They Just Know!

By NORMAN COLBY

One of the interesting arguments against including pupils in the policy discussions of various school district "discipline" committees is that the pupils might be too hard on themselves.

Most committeemen agree that pupils should at least be questioned during deliberations towards forming districts' written policies on corporal punishment, but the degree of student participation is openly debated.

Two arguments against the pupils' sitting down as committeemen are as follows:

USUALLY, THE pupils chosen are outstanding in their groups, and tend to take an even dimmer view than parents of the youngsters who need discipline.

They might be less tolerant because they lack an adult understanding of the "whys" behind a misbehaving child.

Also, the pupils consulted know what they say will be judged by the oldsters, and the judgement process might also apply to the pupil who is "on the spot." Although this may not be true, the pupil may suspect same.

And the result, again, may be a tougher policy rather than a realistic policy.

SOME COMMITTEEMEN have said the children should be questioned, but not consulted. Others have offered that large numbers of children should be invited to each meeting, and speak as "equals" of the regular committeemen.

"Acceptance" by the children of the new policy has been given as a reason for strong pupil participation in the debates.

One thing is certain—there is no such thing as a "dull" discipline committee meeting.

Those districts which do not have their corporal punishment policies on paper face an interesting task, and they are relying heavily on the help of the parents.

FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

Do your readers know that a Medical-Dental Ad Hoc Committee on evaluation of fluoridation, composed of 1500 leading doctors, issued a statement strongly opposing fluoridation?

Also, the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, an organization comprised of 15,000 members of the American Medical Association and founded in 1944, when gathered in convention at San Francisco in April, 1958, issued the following resolution:

"Whereas, the right to determine what shall be done to one's own body is fundamental, and

"Whereas, water is necessary for life, and

"Whereas, many people are dependent on public supplies for water.

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, Inc., assembled in San Francisco, California, this 12th day of April, 1958, condemns the addition of any substance to public water supplies for the purpose of affecting the bodies or the bodily or mental functions of the consumers.

"And be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the members of Congress, the Governors of the several states, and the mayors of our principal cities, and released to the media of public information.

"Adopted by the Assembly and Delegates of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, Inc., at their Annual Meeting held in San Francisco, California, Hotel Mark Hopkins, April 12, 1958. Signed: Cyrus W. Anderson, M.D., Pres. Attest: William L. Baughn, M.D., Secretary.'

This is certainly proof that water is not the proper media for dispensing fluorides to the people! How can anyone ignore a resolution of this type!

MRS. D. E. WINKLER

FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

The question of fluoridating milk has been raised. If the price of a quart of milk were increased only one-fourth cent it would cost 800 per cent more than if the water were fluoridated.

It has never been tested or proved that milk can be fluoridated. Water as a vehicle for fluoridation has been beneficially used for generations.

The chemical analysis of milk is a difficult, long-drawn-out procedure and would have to be made on each batch of milk daily at all points of distribution. There is one source, EBMUD, for your water which is easily and quickly analyzed.

Further, not all children can and do drink milk. The intake of water is a more constant factor.

Therefore, those proposing to fluoridate milk are simply beclouding the issue.

Fluoridation of water remains the most effective, economical, safe and legal method for inhibiting tooth decay.

THANK YOU:

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Orinda Woman's Club, we would like to thank all who supported our ways and means event, the lecture by Count Marco. You will be interested to know that we raised $1600. At our meeting on March 8 we voted part of this money to the Linn School for the Retarded and placed the balance in a clubhouse fund.

We would also like to take this opportunity to thank publicly the Tanager Unit, Mt. Diable Therapy Center, who relinquished their plans for the same speaker in order to insure the success of our event.

Under The Sun
Today Let's Talk About Mad 1, Mad 2, Mad 3 & 4

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

"Hey, boss, what're you growling about?" asked Snoopy, the office cat. "Looks like you're angry about something."

Not angry, Snoopy, just plain mad and I'm about ready to write a hell-raising column.

"Okay, boss, here's your pen and a bottle of poison. Get to work."

An astonishing story . . .

MAD NO. 1 is a result of a newspaper clip from a metropolitan paper last week and I quote: "Mel Nielsen of Lafayette, chairman of the Contra Costa County Supervisors, today said he is astonished to learn Sheriff Walter F. Young more than doubled his $12,600 county salary last year by pocketing fees and mileage allowed him for serving papers in civil suits."

Perhaps Mel has been "misquoted"—cause politicians always claim they are, when they stick their feet into it.

The fact is that Mel and our four other supervisors have known for years that our sheriff pockets thousands upon thousands of dollars in mileage allowances and fees for serving civil papers. (Last year: $13,466. Sheriff's salary is $12,600).

Last fall The Sun again pointed this out and in October Mel and his colleagues on the board discussed the problem. Result—they ordered the county administrator to study and report back with a solution.

Bringing the story up to date

What happened? Nothing.

About four weeks ago, The Sun carried another editorial questioning the fees.

Meanwhile, let me remind Mel, Supervisor Buchanan and Silva, as well as the two new supervisors, Coll and Kenny that this issue was thrashed out in the sheriff's campaign two years ago between Walt Young and Harry Brown.

In 1954, the entire fee problem was again aired at the sheriff's election.

Prior to that, The Sun pounded for years on the fact that Sheriff Long was netting thousands of dollars from fees and mileage. Past grand juries have also questioned this county policy.

So . . . it is a little amusing to hear that Mel is "astonished." But what really is astonishing is that nothing has been done about it. This is the largest county in the state that permits the sheriff to retain this money.

The answer: Our board of supervisors can change this tomorrow—just as they could have last October or years ago.

Here's the straight dope

MAD NO. 2 results from reports from Sacramento. I quote: "Members of both parties in the legislature continued to express dissatisfaction over the fact that Governor Brown will not permit them to enact stiffer dope laws at the current special session of the legislature. The governor turned down a plea for special consideration of this problem at the special session."

Perhaps we should remind our legislators, including Assemblyman Jerry Waldie, that over 2,000,000 Californians last year signed petitions asking for tougher penalties for narcotics peddlers. Remember, The Sun printed a petition form and thousands of you sent them in. The legislators yakked a lot but did very little else.

Now they are unhappy with Governor Brown. Yes, this is an election year. Could be the legislators are a bit more responsive to public opinion?

Government too costly?

MAD NO. 3: I firmly believe we pay too much for services rendered by our governmental units. Too many divisions of government, which were started small to fit specific needs, develop into an ever-growing, empire-building bureaucracy.

The worst offenders, of course, is our military forces and, then, other federal departments.

Take a look at the California state government and the billions being spent each year.

Today's MAD NO. 3 is really in agreement with a veteran legislator, who last week called for an immediate and sweeping review of the entire state government.

Assemblyman Don Allen Sr. (D. Los Angeles) urged the appointment of joint committees of the governor, senate and assembly to see what can be done to curtail mounting state costs.

If this committee does bring forth some answers, let us hope it is more successful in effecting the changes than was the Hoover committee on reorganization of the federal government.

And what holds true for state and federal bureaucracy, is equally true with our county government and local districts.

Who pays the bill?

Now—what does this mean to you?

Have you looked at your pay check lately to see how much is being deducted for taxes? Did you take a good look at your last tax bill? Do you realize how much you pay in hidden taxes—gas tax, phone tax, liquor tax, tobacco tax, sales tax, excise tax, amusement tax, etc?

MAD NO. 4: I'm not going to say anything, but please read the editorial on fire districts on this page.

If you think I'm mad this week—just wait until next. The Sun will be mad, mad, mad. If you have a week heart or lack a sense of humor, please do not read The Sun next Friday, April 1.

WORKSHOP

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the more than 120 students who attended the recent journalism workshop sponsored by the Sun publications—thanks.

Reaction from students is still continuing, all of it favorable. Portions of the workshop which dealt with career opportunities in communications, specific problems in student publications and development of an effective advertising program for student periodicals have stimulated student interest and effort.

Both students and publications advisors in the Acalanes District high schools are especially appreciative of the time and energy devoted by your staff and yourself to the workshop presentations.

We hope that the success of the recent workshop will generate similar programs in future years.

Special thanks to Dick Osborn for his work on the program.

County Still 'Rabid' Say Authorities

Dr. Malcolm Merrill, state director of public health, declared Contra Costa County will continue as a rabies area for another 12-month period, beginning April 9.

This declaration was based on a March 1 recommendation of the Rabies Advisory Committee for Region IV and is in accord with Section 1901.2 of the California Health and Safety Code, he said.

"Such a declaration at this time", said Dr. John Baier, assistant county health officer, "has added significance because another rabid skunk was found in the Oakley area on February 10.

"THIS SKUNK, which fought and bit two dogs, was proven rabid by laboratory tests completed on March 8.

Fortunately both of the dogs involved had been previously vaccinated for rabies and were given booster vaccinations after the skunk bites".

"The continued presence of rabid skunks in Contra Costa County and their frequent close association with dogs creates a threat to residents of Contra Costa County.

There is usually a long period of time between being infected with rabies and development of symptoms of this 100 per cent fatal disease.

JUST BEFORE and after symptoms develop the animal is infectious but the symptoms are such that they are confused with other illnesses.

This means that a family dog may have rabies and endanger many people and other animals before the disease is recognized.

For this reason and because there is no treatment for the disease once it develops, rabies is a problem for complete prevention. Even the Pasteur treatment, which is used in humans to prevent the development of disease after bites occur, is hazardous and not always fully protective."

"THUS, THE only logical way to cope with rabies is to prevent it completely. All available preventive measures must be utilized. This is the fundamental approach used in the present anti-rabies laws.

"Rabies vaccination of all dogs is one of our best preventive measures. It breaks the chain of direct transmission to humans, illustrated in these two dogs which were bitten by a rabid skunk", he said.

Fads, Booms, Buildings Have Area Bouncing

By BILL HAYWARD

NEWEST FAD TO COME TO THESE PARTS . . . needs a piece of real estate upon which to operate . . . as most businesses do . . . TRAMPOLINE PARK . . . what is it? Well, if you have been south to any part of the Los Angeles or surrounding areas . . . you have seen them in action . . . and they do take action . . . kids bouncing up and down all over the place on TRAMPOLINES . . . constructed in rows of 10 to 12 each over shallow holes in the ground . . . so that the jumping can be done on the ground level.

The youngsters and grownups too rent the JUMPING SPACE . . . for about 40 cents per half hour . . . and I might add this jumping can burn off a pile of energy.

The new JUMPING PIT . . . is located just north of Mel's Drive In on Main Street and south of the Walnut Creek Auto Sales at Ygnacio Blvd. . . . TRY IT SOMETIME. . . .

THE VERY BIG BIG SAN RAMON PROJECT is now public information with the news release that the developers Ken Volk and Bob McLain, Los Angeles realtors, will build approximately 11,500 new homes over the period of the next six years . . . sounds fantastic but this new community will ultimately be larger than the City of Concord according to the prognostications and predictions.

Lands for commercial use, industrial plants, schools, churches and parks have all been set aside for the entire project.

Imagine if you can a city spreading from a point just south of the hamlet of San Ramon to Dublin and south piece . . . east of Camp Parks and west to the hills . . . tremendous, no less . . . and we say on occasion . . . opportunity knocks? or do you cause opportunity to knock on your door?

At any rate sme 4300 acres of land will some day in the not too distant future be covered with bungalows to form the new San Ramon Estates.

They have not overlooked a hospital, a heliport, a private country club and a couple of public golf courses along with a site for a huge motel . . . and believe it or not . . . 1600 acres of land are to be set aside to accommodate the huge sewage treatment plant somewhere in the location of the now existing Camp Parks.

This is the biggest thing to hit these parts since the HULA HOOP . . . and I am not now talking about the JUMPING PITS either.

WALNUT CREEK IN THE NEWS . . . or possibly you already heard. . . . The Zenith Construction Corp. (not Radio & TV) have started construction on a 24 unit Luxury Motel near the corner of Mt. Diablo Blvd. and Locust St. A 2 story structure will be strictly tops and will be known as the Diablo Inn . . . completion date along in July or August . . .

OUR FRIEND AND NEIGHBOR . . . MARTY . . . of Marty's Gourmet House . . . has opened a new and novel SNACK SHACK . . . or BRUNCH BAR . . . or PICNIC BASKET . . . or you name it . . . Coffee . . . sandwiches and some very tasty hot dishes will be on the bill of fare for you hungry people that like to eat in rush and yet still nourish your ulcers.

Marty will go out of her way to make you happy . . . I know.

ACROSS THE NATION . . . FHA applications and "in the hopper home loan traffic" . . . slowed noticeably . . . the cost to the seller for "POINTS" is too high for comfort . . . and such fine lenders and hustlers as Berkeley Savings and Loan Association have untold MILLIONS that they must get out into circulation . . . they are making 75 per cent long, long term loans with the greatest of ease.

Seminar by San Quentin Counselor Is Planned

A weekend seminar by a San Quentin counselor who has been working on the initial major research on crime and punishment will be held by the Contra Costa Chapter of the International Society for General Semantics next Friday through March 27.

Place will be the Cooperative Center meeting room, 1510 Geary Road, Walnut Creek.

The seminar will explain the fundamentals of general semantics interpreting love and hate, vanity and guilt, choice and determinism, deception and self-deception—as they motivate attitudes in war and peace, science and religion, courtship and marriage, organization and management, time, sex and death, crime and punishment, and so on.

LECTURER and discussion leader will be Norman K. Harrington, correctional officer and counselor at San Quentin Prison from 1948 to 1960.

Harrington has spent 23 years in law enforcement, and nine years giving general semantics training to prisoners. He will employ charts, demonstrations and methods he uses in the retraining inmates at the prison.

The time schedule will be next Friday, 7:30 to 10 p.m. March 26, 10 to 12 noon, 2 to 5 p.m., group dinner at 6 p.m. and 7:30 to 10 p.m.; March 26, 1 to 4 p.m.

AT A RECENT organization meeting, Mrs. Estelle Girande of Walnut Creek was elected acting president; Mrs. William Fearey of Orinda, acting secretary; and Robert Carr of Concord, acting treasurer.

Registrations are being taken by Mrs. Fearey. Checks should be made out to the C. C. Chapter of I.S.G.S. and mailed to Carr at 162 Lorelle Place, Concord by Monday.

Seminar fees are $25 per family; $19 per individual; business, government or service $50 for initial person and $15 additional. Also some scholarships are available. One-half of the net proceeds remains in local chapter, of Martinez.

School Employees Will Meet April 7

The California School Employees' Association will meet Thursday, April 7 at 8 p.m. in the board room of Lafayette District Office, 3477 School Street, Lafayette.

Mrs. Helen Brattain, Lafayette School District board member, will show colored slides of the trip she and Dr. Brattain and their children took to Europe last summer.

Waldie Tells Candidacy for Assembly Term

State Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie, (D-Antioch) today announced his candidacy for re-election to the California Legislature.

Waldie was elected in 1958 with a surprising 8000 vote majority.

HE IS A MEMBER of the Education, Finance and Insurance and Industrial Relations Comtees. His colleagues recently elected him to the powerful Assembly Rules Committee, according him the rare distinction of being selected for this job as a freshman legislator.

"I believe that my position in the majority party and my membership on major committees has effectively aided in the fulfillment of requests from individuals as well as cities and other governmental entities in our county," Waldie stated.

Waldie was the author of legislation which successfully permitted Contra Costa County to exclude itself from the Alameda-Contra Costa County Transit District, thereby effecting considerable tax relief to individuals, business and industry in this county.

WALDIE WAS selected in an informal poll of newsmen covering Sacramento activities as the outstanding Freshman Assemblyman.

Waldie is a practicing attorney in Antioch and a lifelong resident of that city. He resides there with his wife, JoAnne, and his children, Jill, Jonathon and Jeffery.

Suspicious?
You bet we are! Genuinely suspicious of anyone looking for opportunity in the real estate sales field who hasn't been in to see us!

Frankly, we suspect that such a salesman might not recognize opportunity if he encountered it! However, we are willing to overlook past mistakes if you apply for and qualify for a sales position in our organization.

But, you'd better be quick!

County Twice SF Present-Day Size In 60 Years

Contra Costa County in 60 years will have twice the population of the present-day San Francisco. This is a prediction of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The county's estimated 400,000 residents will be multiplied to about 2,116,000 by the year 2020, a chart with other fascinating figures indicates.

The chart also indicates that Contra Costa will add some 60,000 people to its rolls in the next 10 years alone.

WALNUT CREEK "area" and Concord "area" will be racing for the highest population shortly after the turn of the next century.

In 60 years, Walnut Creek "area" will have some 306,000 residents, but Concord is expected to top that with 343,000.

In each case the estimates include the area about the city to the "township" borders.

The Contra Costa County population in 1980 will be about 640,000, and in 1990, almost a million.

AT THE TURN of the century, 2000 A.D., it will have 1,082,000; 2010, 1,544,000, and 2020, 2,116,300.

The department of commerce report was published by the San Francisco Bay Area Council, Inc., which announced that the report was originally prepared for the U. S. Army corps of engineers, in connection with their Bay model study.

The council said, "The population of the Bay Area will double in the next 30 years for a total of 7,422,400 by 1990 and quadruple in the next 60 years, reaching 14,407,200 by 2020.

"Heaviest growth will take place in Santa Clara County, which is expected to gain some 888,500 additional persons by 1990.

IN 60 YEARS, 2020, the county's population will be 2,946,400.

"The fastest growth rates, though, will be in the northern Bay Area counties with Sonoma increasing 222 per cent by 1990 and Napa 883 per cent by 2020.

FIFTH SECTION

ORINDA SUN

Friday, March 25, 1960

MRS. JAMES MORRIS of Lafayette has been chosen Volunteer of the Month by the Contra Costa Volunteer Bureau. This is a typical scene at the Morris home with Mrs. Morris and her children, Jamie and Betsy.

Mrs. Morris Is Named Volunteer for March

The Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County has honored Mrs. James (Barbara) Morris of Lafayette as the March Volunteer of the Month in recognition of the service she has given to aid and enrich the lives of children and families throughout the county as 1959 chairman of the Christmas Bureau.

Mrs. Morris, who is a housewife and mother of two children, Betsy age 6 and Jamie age 2, did her own Christmas shopping in July so that she might spend the months before Christmas soliciting material support in the form of food, money and toys for the needy families of Contra Costa.

MRS. MORRIS and her committee worked with over 70 agencies and individuals organizing space to receive materials, sort and pack boxes to fit the individual needs of several hundred families and children who were served by the Christmas Bureau.

In addition to the Christmas Bureau, Mrs. Morris has given service to the Juvenile Hall Nursery, United Crusade solicitation for health drives, Brownie Troop and Member of the Personnel Committee for the Diablo Valley Girl Scout Council, Board of Directors of the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County.

She has been a Sunday School teacher at the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church and is a member of the Junior League and the Lafayette Young Republicans.

SPECIALS INTERESTS of Mrs. Morris and her famliy include water sports and gardening.

Anyone who wishes to give a few hours time to the service of their community is requested to call the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County (a United Crusade Agency) located at 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek. Telephone is YE 4-0424.

Nose Counters to Learn How County Is Doing

The national 1960 census takers will begin on April 1 in their detailed job of determining how many people are in Contra Costa County. And residents will be able to compare the exact figure with the County's general estimate of 402,000.

Assuming that the county's figure is somewhere near the correct one, the county's growth during the last decade is strong, but not as as spectacular from during the previous 10 years.

From 1940 to 1950, the growth was from 100,450 to 298,980, which made Contra Costa the fastest growing county in California for that period.

ITS POPULATION had almost tripled during World War II and the years immediately following.

During those years, San Mateo and Solano counties had more than doubled in population.

Of course, numerically speaking, Los Angeles County was far ahead of the others, with a growth from about 2,785,000 to 4,150,000.

San Francisco County's growth could be called "steady" from 1940-50—climbing from 634,000 to 775,000.

AND THE ENTIRE state's population went from almost seven millions to 10 millions. (With about half of that in Los Angeles County alone.)

Back to Contra Costa County:

Somebody must have been careless, because way back in 1850 the local county's population records were somehow lost. (This also happened to Santa Clara County.)

But in 1860, there were 5328 people in the 734 square mile area.

IN SUCCEEDING decades the numbers increased by about 3000, then by 4000, then by only 1000, then by 5000.

After 1900, the figures grew faster—1900, 18,046; 1910, 31,674; 1920, 53,889; 1930, 78,608; 1940, 100,450; 1950, 298,984.

The county's estimated population today is between Alameda County's figure for 1920, 344,000, and for 1930, 474,000.

Farm Bureau Women to Meet On Fools Day

Despite spring fever and April Fool's Day, Contra Costa Farm Bureau Women will meet next Friday at Farm Bureau Hall on Delta Road, Knightsen.

County officers, committees, unit chairmen, and home advisors will be the guests of the Knightsen group under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Peters, vice-chairman.

She will serve luncheon and stage the afternoon program.

Cancer Drive Kits Packed

Instead of pistols, the mamas were kit-packing last week at the little pink house at 1999 North Main Street in Walnut Creek.

Wives of members of the Diablo Valley 20-30 Club, men's service organization of Concord, Pleasant Hill, Lafayette, Alamo, Danville and Walnut Creek, gathered last week to pack kits for American Cancer Society volunteers in the April Cancer Crusade.

The kits, containing life-saving information on cancer, will be distributed in April to nearly every home in the Central Contra Costa area when volunteers at the same time gather funds to fight the disease.

Dr. Pellegrin, president, Contra Costa Cancer Society, expressed his thanks to the "20-30 Anns", as the kit-packing mamas are known; to the Girl Scouts of Walnut Creek and the Camp Fire Girls of Pleasant Hill who also volunteered for the work.

Scouting Exposition Starts Tomorrow

The Mt. Diablo Council Scouting Exposition will be held at eight different locations tomorrow, it was announced by George H. Macey, general chairman.

Macey added that children under 14 years of age who are accompanied by their parents will be admitted free of charge.

This is an opportunity for boys and girls who are not scouts, as well as those who are participating with their unit, to see some of the many scout-craft skills demonstrated by cubs, boy scouts, and explorers.

Cubs will have samples of their personal achievements on display, as well as many examples of theme crafts used during the past program year.

Boy scouts will be showing the requirements for an assigned subject from the list of about 100 merit badges.

Explorers and sea explorers will point out the many facets of those respective programs through several specialties in addition to merit badges.

Tickets may be purchased from any cub, boy scout, or explorer for the big show, which will be at Berkeley High School; Miramonte High School, Orinda; Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek; Pleasant Hill Intermediate School; Oil Worker's Hall, Martinez; Mt. Diablo High School, Concord; County Fair Grounds, Antioch; and the Richmond auditorium.

Your Garden

Native Plants Friendly In Homes and Gardens

You don't need a guide book to tell you that the natives are friendly in California. But it takes a knowing gardener to tell you just how nice they can be around the home. Native plants, that is.

In the first place, California's natives come in colors, sizes and shapes to satisfy the most exacting landscaper. Secondly, their culture is so easy that what you don't do for them is more important that what you do.

TAKING the second point first hear this warning from the California Association of Nurserymen: hillsides up and down the state men. The C.A.N. says the nicest thing you can do for most natives is to neglect them. Being natives, they aren't used to year-round attention, if you prefer. The eye-catching, yellow-flowered Fremontia, which leads its stiff tree-like form and warm tones to dry new plants. Then slack

There are extremes to which you can go with neglect—or with watering and don't like it. Plant them now and water to establish is most susceptible to over attention. You can kill it with a minimum of kindness. Ignore it completely and it will thrive.

There are other nice things awaiting you among the California natives. Our colorful Christmas Berry, the lovely Matalija Poppy or maybe some Madrone for its rust-colored trunk and branches. You're missing a bet if you don't bring these into your own garden.

Protests Halt Las Trampas Job

Controversy over the realignment of the Las Trampas Creek has led the Federal Government to withdraw its offer to share costs, postponing indefinitely the work, County Board of Supervisors were told last week.

Carl Rich, County Flood Control and Water Conservation District engineer, told the supervisors some residents had written letters to the government protesting the taking of their land, and the government feels that there are other areas begging for funds which are not controversial.

The federal money is normally alloted through the Soil Conservation Service, and it was the service which informed Rich of the change, he said.

The proposed Las Trampas realignment would run for about 700 feet between Boulevard Way and Bridge Road.

Ground Covers Can Help Hard-to-Landscape Spots

A ground cover that blooms can be just the thing to brighten your parkway, or to convert that hard-to-landscape patch of ground into a patch of color. Out of bloom it is just what every good ground cover should be — an evergreen blanket. In bloom it offers its bonus of color.

We checked a recent list of ground covers which the California Association of Nurserymen sent our way. On it were a bumper crop of flower-bearing plants that fit our needs.

SOME ARE modest in their bloom habit. Close matting Carpet Bugle falls in this class, as does the old" strawberry, though the latter's creamy blossoms are accented sharply against the green foliage. We can't argue with modesty, however, since both do a good job of providing both bloom and cover.

The new Lantanas show a good variety of exciting colors, too, all of them a far cry from the limited choice the family offered some years back. A check of these would be worth your while

Rotary President Tells First Umbrella Story

By CONNIE PIKE

A long time ago, before the Weimaraner came into fashion, status seekers held umbrellas to be the symbol of success.

We can thank the grandfather of Earl Cappel, 3366 McGraw Lane, Lafayette, for the bit of plastic waterproofed silk we hold over our heads on damp days.

A. Cappel, of Dayton, Ohio, was the first to manufacture umbrellas in the United States.

EARL, WHO WAS recently elected president of the Orinda Rotary Club, said the family has been in business since the eighteen-seventies, when Grandfather Cappel arrived from Germany.

A turner, he immediately began making scrolls and other fancy wood pieces for the Barney & Smith Co. Barney & Smith was the Pullman company of its day, making and outfitting sleeping cars for the new-fangled railroad trains. Many Cappel scrolls looked down on sleeping travelers.

Before long however, Cappel turned to making umbrellas. Until then they had been imported from Europe and England. The first users were thought to be defying natural law in protecting themselves from rain.

But fashion had its way. Cappel took his first batch of domestic umbrellas and sold them in Springfield, some thirty miles away. He was in business.

BY THE TIME Earl came along in 1904, A. Cappel & Son was operating four leather goods stores in Ohio.

Earl attended Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, later joined the company, working in various parts of the country. He went to Washington in the first years of World War II, then served two years in the Air Force at Wright-Patterson Field in Dayton.

The company sent him to California in 1946 and eight years later he formed his own company, Cappel, Pera & Reid, Inc., advertising agents.

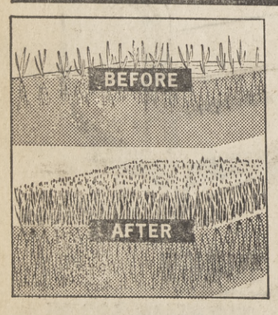
GOLDEN GROOM
UNLOCKS A GROWING SECRET
AS OLD AS NATURE ITSELF...

NOW... from the great Douglas Fir Forests of Northern California, an exciting new product for gardeners—Golden Groom. This fresh, scientifically ground fir bark comes ready for use... free of salt contamination, weed seeds, stones and other objectionable objects. And, Golden Groom is fortified with Nitrogen... nature's most important plant food.

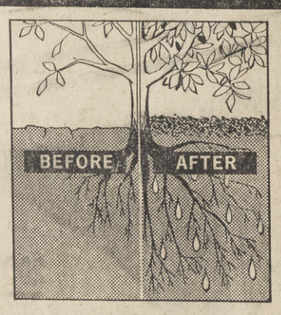
Completely versatile, Golden Groom is a superior potting mix—a top dressing for old and new lawns, planting beds and flower gardens—and a planting medium for trees and shrubs. Golden Groom combats weeds too... and adds a refreshing forest scent to the garden.

LET GOLDEN GROOM DO NATURES WORK FOR YOU IN YOUR GARDEN



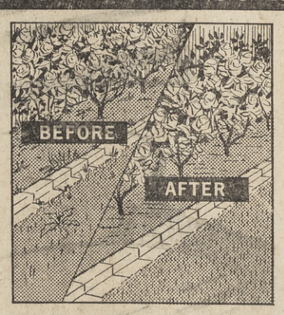
CONDITIONS SOIL

Golden Groom loosens up adobe and clay-like soils—gives added body to light or sandy soil. Adds valuable humus and improves water holding ability. The result—a perfect root zone for lush lawns... beautiful gardens.



CUTS WATER BILL

Used as a top-dressing mulch, Golden Groom retards surface evaporation and conserves soil moisture. This allows for longer intervals between watering. Your garden flourishes with less water ... less work!



COMBATS WEEDS

2 inches of Golden Groom spread over planting beds, flower gardens and plant containers smothers out weeds and adds a trim, well groomed look to everything you grow. You enjoy your garden with far less work.

LONGER LASTING

Unlike peat moss, which is largely decomposed by the time it's used, Golden Groom is a fresh product. The cellular structure of the fir bark remains intact, doing its wonder work in your garden for as long as 5 to 7 years.

FORTIFIED WITH NITROGEN

Golden Groom is pre-treated with Nitrogen, the most important plant nutrient. Nitrogen triggers the natural organic properties of Golden Groom, releasing an important source of needed plant food.

Water Greatly to Check Dryness

It's surprising how fast March winds can dry the ground out after a rain. Be sure to water thoroughly and not just wet the top soil if signs of drying show up.

A good feeding will do wonders for a needy lawn.

Feed azaleas and camellias with acid food as they go out of bloom. Hold off on rhodendrons so as not to force new growth to interfere with the bloom.

Most leafy salad vegetables and many others, too, are available as seedlings for easy transfer to your kitchen garden.

Start lawns now and next month. Your needs from a lawn may vary from your neighbor's.

California Blooms Make Mild Spring Worthwhile

It's been said before that the beauty of an eastern spring lies in the suddenness of its arrival. Weather warms, snow melts, buds swell—and bang! Spring bursts forth in all its glory.

Gardeners in California may miss this sudden coming to life, but we should be thankful one and all that we don't have to brave an eastern winter. We'll happily take our spring in mild doses and our winter the way it is. Besides, we more than make up in total bloom what we miss in this overnight change.

TAKE CAMELLIAS or azaleas, for instance. How much more pleasant to have these "spring" beauties with us from fall to April than it would be to have them all at once. A member of the California Association of Nurserymen can help you select varieties of these two companions that—for length of bloom—will make whatever eastern spring you might have heard about look like a piker.

You can try such eastern favorites as forsythia and spirea in California, but winter in some areas is just too mild to bring out their best. Where they catch a winter chill, they can and should be tried. Weigela is better adapted and puts out a lovely profusion of pink (occasionally ruby) blooms.

The viburnums are spring favorites everywhere for their large heads of waxy fragrant flowers. But in California we often get our best blooms from the non-fragrant member of the family-the common snowball. Don't overlook the others, though. A few blooms carry a lot of scent.

CALIFORNIANS can thank their lucky stars for the India hawthorne—both red and pink. These lovely shrubs do so much to say "spring is here" in our gardens. Their use in foundation plantings and low shrub borders is highly recommended to all who haven't known their cluster of dainty blooms first hand.

We have other favorites, too; pieris japonica with its lily-of-the-valley type blooms; the delavay osmanthus with its fragrant massed white bloom; tea trees with their lovely reaching arms of white or pink.

USEFULNESS

Helen Keller, counselor of the American Foundation for the Blind, believes that "it is often said that usefulness is the end of life, and so it is. But happiness creates and inspires usefulness. If you have many gifts and the power to understand.

Home and Garden Page Worthwhile

However long you have been a "green thumb" artist, there is always something new under the sun, and those little tips and discoveries appear regularly in The Sun's Home and Garden Page, printed each week!

Most folks, after a long week bringing home the bacon or bringing up the kids, look forward to those hours of relaxation in the garden.

The Sun's special column will show you how to get more out of those hours.

There are informative articles on plants which are handy and at the same time just right for your surroundings. Sometimes they tell how and where to get more information on certain items, like "native plants."

And just as often, they are designated to increase your general interest in gardening, with pictures to show what kind of results you can get without more than a good workout.

Read The Sun's Home and Garden Page! It's another offering by which The Sun makes subscribing the best deal in the world for the suburban homeowner!

EDUCATION

The American Foundation for the Blind maintains a department of public education which uses every possible means if communication—television, radio, and the printed word in articles and news releases to help acquaint the public with the modern concept of blindness, and to inform them about services available to blind persons.

LOUIS B. CASEY, physics teacher at Miramonte High School (center), has won a Shell Merit Fellowship and will attend a special science and math seminar this summer at Stanford University. The Seminar is for 100 outstanding high school teachers, and will train them in latest science developments and teaching techniques. Here, he conducts a classroom demonstration for Miramonte's principal, James A. Lewis (right), and Shell Oil Company's Oakland district sales manager, John McDougal, who visited the school to congratulate Casey on the award.

Physics Teacher Wins Summer Merit Fellowship

Louis B. Casey, physics teacher at Miramonte High School, has been awarded a Shell Merit Fellowship to Stanford University this summer.

He is one of 100 outstanding high school science and math teachers selected on the basis of merit and demonstrated leadership qualities to attend seminars at Stanford and Cornell Universities. Both schools made their selections from more than 1000 applications.

ACCORDING TO John McDougal, Oakland district sales manager for Shell Oil Company, the seminars were established five years ago to help maintain the quality of the nation"s scientific effort by enabling high school teachers to keep posted on latest developments in their fields and advances in teaching techniques. They are sponsored by Shell Companies Foundation, Inc.

Casey, a native of Muskogee, Oklahoma, graduated from Oklahoma State University with a master of science degree. He has been teaching about 12 years, the last two at Miramonte. In recent years he has won fellowships to attend the Academic Year Institute at Oklahoma State and a physical science course at Reed College.

While at Stanford, Casey and the other Shell Fellowship winners will receive training in math, chemistry, physics and educational techniques. They will also see firsthand the application of science and math in industry. Lectures by some of the nation's top mathematicians and scientists, and weekly field trips to research laboratories and industrial plants are included in the seminar program, McDougal stated.

EACH FELLOWSHIP carries a travel allowance, tuition costs, living expenses and $500 addiional cash to help offset the teachers' loss of potential summer earnings. The Stanford seminar, with 50 teachers attending, will be held June 20 through August 13.

While at Stanford, Casey will be encouraged to devote time to any phase of his work at Miramonte High which he feels requires special research or attention.

He is a member of the California Teachers Association and the National Education Association.

He reseides with his wife, the former Marie B. Holloway of Yakima, Washington, at 2263 Mountain View Drive, Concord.

Orindan Will Matriculate

Eric J. Walling, 77 Orchard Road, will be one of 230 Pomona College freshmen who matriculated in the annual matriculation ceremonies on the campus last week in Bridges Hall of Music.

Eric is the son of Mr. and J. W. Walling and an economics-engineering mapor at Pomona.

DR. RICHARD Armour, professor of English at Scripps College and the Claremont Graduate School, spoke on the subject "Some Thoughts on Thinking."

John F. Beall Jr., president of the freshman class, led the freshman matriculating students in signing of the college's historic matriculation book. Matriculation signifies that a student has completed a semester with satisfactory academic and citizenship records.

Parents were served lunch after the ceremony and were guests at a reception hosted by the college president, E. Wilson Lyon and Mrs. Lyon.

DR. AMMOUR has written 10 books including "It All Started With Columbus," "It All Started With Europa," and "It All Started With Marx."

His latest published work is his boyhood autobiography, "Drug Store Days."

Miramonte Mirror...

Rehearsals, Deadlines And Baseball Are on Tap

By JUNE NOLLER

Senior play rehearsals, sophomore assembly rehearsals, yearbook deadlines and baseball games left the lights on late at Miramonte last week.

The yearbook staff under its hard working and loyal editor, Suzie Lahti, worked almost every night amidst photographs, typewriters and cokes to meet their March 18 deadline.

Jerilyn Ganiats, Michele Angelo, Betty Edlund, Al Nilmeir, Carole McChesney, Rich Nedderson, Bonnie McClaverty and Sue Schilling complete the industrious staff. Mr. Mack, their teacher-advisor, spent the evenings developing pictures and doing are work along with tse students.

Tonight's presentation of "Annie Get Your Gun" by the senior class ought to prove successful by the publicity it has been given. Besides shooting up the crossroads with horse and all, the class has given ridiculous announcements over the school P. A. system, and has painted the town with posters.

Tickets for tonight and tomorrow night's performances can be purchased at the door for $1 by adults and 75 cents by students. Sylvia Sylvia and Jim Botto will reign as the stars of the show.

The "Annie Get Your Gun" cast has practiced long hours every day for weeks to make the best of their production. Some of the funnier incidents that happened during the rehearsals were Squire Fridell's telling of "Seagull" jokes and doing Shelly Berman imitations, Vicki McCosker losing her skirt during a scene and Kurt Lundblad's famous interjections such as "Babe" and "Great Zot."

This summer, students at Miramonte will again get a chance to gain valuable experience while working at their choice of job. This program, now called the C.E.C.-Career Exploration Course—was, on all accounts, a success last year.

If you are interested in such things as tracking criminals, building radios or performing surgery, this program can make it possible for you. Last year, students worked at the criminology lab at Cal, at various radio repair shops and watched the surgery at the County Hospital in Martinez. In addition, others worked with engineers, lawyers and lab technicians.

This year the C.E.C. is being offered to incoming juniors, seniors, and those graduating in June. Those interested must sign up before April 1 at Miramonte.

A special meeting of the senior representatives to the Senior All Night Committee met at Milt Howe's with President Mrs. Arleigh Williams last week. The group decided to allow students graduating from high school who have previously attended Miramonte to attend the party. They must sign up and pay their $12.50 by April 22.

More Miramonte ski fans returned to school this week with tanned faces. Ruth Thompson, Tom Miles, Jeff Knudsen, Sylvia Bolman, Bonnie Boyd and Carl Ogden spent the weekend on the Edelweiss Chair Lift.

Also this week, members of the Miramonte Ski Club signed up for a three day trip to Sugar Bowl on April 1, 2 and 3. This is the club's last trip of the season, and will be spent at Ski Inn Lodge near the Sugar Bowl slopes. Judy Hopkins, Ric Keating, Joyce Odental, Michele Angelo and Jim Boyd were among the signees for the big event.

Sleepy Hollow Group Appoints Representatives

Committee assignments for the remainder of the year were made last week at the meeting of the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association.

The meeting was held at the home of the association president, Charles Blue, 29 Tappan Lane.

The following assignments were made: Representative to the Orinda Association planning committee, Edward C. Bergen; representative to the Orinda Association civic affairs committee, Paul E. Gregg; elementary schools, John Guilliams; roads, Robert H. Moore; restrictions, John L. Pearson; membership, Alex Poulsen; and publicity, William M. Brobeck.

Lewis H. Parce will continue to serve as the group's treasurer until the fall, and Richard Leland will continue as interim secretary, Blue said.

Pool's Public Opening April 2

The community swimming pool at Miramonte High School, which was successfully aided by public subscription, officially opens Sunday, April 3.

At 1 p.m. on that day there will be a short program. Diving and swimming exhibitions by students or Miramonte can be witnessed by the public. It is hoped by both committee and students that the program will be well attended by the Orinda residents.

The pool will be open to high school students for regular swimming programs and swimming teams. Beginning Saturday, April 2, the pool is open to the public on weekends. During summer vacation, the pool will be open daily to the public during the afternoons except on Mondays.

Principal James Lewis and co-chairmen James Dana and Mrs. Billy Bowles cordinally invite all to the Miramonte High School on Saturday, April 2, at 1 p.m. to witness the dedication ceremonies which will be handled by the students of Miramonte.

Raskob Presents Education Center

Robert P. Raskob, 48 Charles Hill Road, and his young daughter, Lorena Dolores, participated in formal dedication ceremonies of the new Ellen K. Raskob Institute at the College of the Holy Names in Oakland Saturday afternoon.

The Raskobs presented the buildiing and the key to Sister Imelde Maria, president of the college.

The building, which houses a center for special education, was built with funds from a grant made by the Raskob Foundation for Catholic Activities. Robert Raskob is the nephew of Ellen K. Rascob, for whom the building is named.

The Ellen K. Raskob Institute is designed for special educational projects such as teacher-training and research in adult and child study. In providing the newest medium of magnetic tape-teaching techniques, this institute will make possible the continuation in the Bay Area of an educational service for both adults and children.

Unlike any other special education center in the United States, the institute will be the site if a workshop for in-service teachers this summer, during which time original research in the several fields of magnetic tape-teaching
